Glowing Forecast Given for Nation's Economy in 1967

Adviser Says No Recession in Sight, Prices Should Level Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government predicts a slowdown next year in the rate of growth of business spending for new plants and equipment — a key economic factor certain to be weighed by President Johnson as he ponders the possibility of a tax increase.

Johnson also received Friday a glowing forecast for the nation's economy in 1967. Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said prosperity will continue next year, no recession is in sight and prices should level off.

Spending Increase

As Ackley was conferring with Johnson in Texas, the Labor Department reported unemployment in November dipped to 3.7 per cent for the third month this year — the lowest level since 1953 — while total employment climbed to 75 million — higher than any other November.

The Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission predicted plant and equipment spending by business will increase at a rate of 7 per cent in the first half of 1967, compared with the 16.5 per cent rate of growth projected for all of 1966.

Thant Pledges Personal Effort For Viet Nam

Secretary-General Heartened by Vote of Confidence in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Heartened by a resounding vote of confidence from the General Assembly, U Thant set forth today on another five-year term as secretary-general of the United Nations. He told the General Assembly he would "make every effort on a personal basis" to bring peace to war-torn Viet Nam.

Applause echoed through the blue and gold Assembly Hall Friday night as the member states unanimously approved a second term for the little Burmese ex-schoolmaster.

'Deeply Touched'

Plainly affected by the ovation, the 57-year-old diplomat told the packed chamber that he had been "deeply touched" by the warm praise he had been receiving from the delegates.

"I am confronted by an overwhelming weight of opinion," he said, "that under present circumstances, my continuance as secretary-general for another term would serve the higher interests of the organization and thus represent a positive factor in the current situation."

Thant expressed keen disappointment over failure to bring peace to Viet Nam, but held hope for the future.

"The threats to peace in many parts of the world, and more particularly in Viet Nam are for me a continuing source of anxiety and even anguish," he said.

"I was glad to know a few days ago that there is general agreement in regard to a brief pause in the fighting in Viet Nam on the occasion of Christmas and other holidays."

"Is it too much to hope," he asked, "that what is made possible for just a couple of days by the occurrence of common holidays may soon prove feasible for a longer period by the new commitments that peace requires so that an atmosphere may be created which is necessary for meaningful talks to be held in the quest for a peaceful solution?"

Six U.S. Jets Downed; Eleven Airmen Missing

Lost Over North Viet Nam For Highest One-Day Toll of Fliers Since Start of War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Six U. S. supersonic jet bombers went down over North Viet Nam Friday and U. S. headquarters said all 11 fliers aboard them were lost — the highest single-day toll of airmen in the war.

Some of the American planes crashed with Communist MIG21s, but none was hit by the enemy fighters, headquarters said.

It listed all the 11 American fliers as missing — presumed dead or captured. The loss of planes was the second heaviest of the war for one day.

During the raids, a flight of four F105 Thunderchiefs encountered two of the late-model MIG21s and in a brief dogfight, the Communist jets fired heat-seeking air-to-air missiles. But a U. S. spokesman said the encounter broke off without damage to either side.

Delta Move

The report of the U. S. air losses followed word from the Vietnamese government that U. S. troops would move into the vital Mekong Delta where the Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been deadlocked for months.

Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky told newsmen the American forces will begin moving into the delta within three or four weeks. U. S. military officials declined to comment.

Ky said there would be a "progressive buildup" of U. S. troops in the delta where 7 million of South Viet Nam's 15 million people are. Much of the rice-rich area is under Viet Cong domination. Some U. S. military strategists have long advocated using American forces there.

Ground Fire

U. S. headquarters said four of the lost American planes were shot down by enemy ground fire. This could have been conventional antiaircraft fire or surface-to-air missiles, but U. S. spokesmen declined to say which on grounds of security. The other two planes were listed as downed from unknown causes.

The plane losses, exceeded only on last Aug. 7 when seven went down, were announced as ground fighting flared in scattered areas of South Viet Nam. Much of the fighting was within a 30-mile radius of Saigon, the South Vietnamese capital.

Other developments included: —The Viet Cong mined a Vietnamese military train carrying

Pro-Reds Riot, Sack Hall in Macao Colony

Thousands of Chinese Fight With Police, Beat Up Officials

MACAO (AP) — Several thousand pro-Communist Chinese rioters sacked Macao's City Hall and fought with police today as this tiny Portuguese colony faced its most serious crisis since Red Chinese artillery fired on it during a border row in 1952.

The demonstrators, reportedly directed by Peking, tore portraits of former Portuguese governors off the walls in the City Hall and tossed books and city records into the street, setting them afire.

Others battled with police barring the entrance to government house, overturning police cars and beating up officials. Several police and at least a score of demonstrators were reported hurt.

At one point police tried to use tear gas to control the rioters, but a brisk wind blew it out over harbor waters. It was the third demonstration in four days.

Earlier Accusations

Earlier this week, a Peking broadcast accused Macao authorities of "premeditated fascist atrocities against Chinese nationals" when Macao police stopped workmen tearing down a building where pro-Communist Chinese said they planned to build a school.

The demonstration began shortly after noon and continued through the late afternoon. Two government market inspectors were knocked down by demonstrators wielding heavy bamboo cudgels, then were kicked and beaten. An eyewitness said one of the inspectors appeared seriously hurt.

At last four news photographers were beaten. Their cameras were seized and hurled into the sea. Eyewitnesses said they saw a European tourist mobbed when he tried to take pictures.

Police Chief Walter Markel, left, Ironton, Ohio, was killed Friday during a jailbreak. Escapée Carl E. Hallock, right, 28, Ashland, Ky., surrendered Friday night to a private citizen. Three other prisoners took part in the break. One died of gunshot wounds and two were captured at the scene. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Tests Method Of 'Sneak' Blast

No Tremor Felt by Observers During Subsurface Explosion

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The United States today exploded a nuclear bomb more than a half mile underground in a major test of a possible "sneak" method of concealing subsurface blasts to long range detection should they ever be supposedly banned by treaty.

The blast, which cost $5 million to prepare and shoot, was touched off at 7:15 a.m. in a huge cavity 2,700 hundred feet beneath the surface of the gigantic Tatum salt dome, 22 miles southwest of Hattiesburg in south Mississippi.

Newsmen and other observers watching from an observation point 1.5 miles from the detonation point heard no sound from the blast, which packed the explosive wallop of 350 tons of TNT.

Needle Jumps

But the needle of a seismograph at the observation point swerved sharply several times at the instant of the detonation.

Newsmen also saw a fan shaped glow resembling a neon light above the distant point. But project officials said the

Buoy May Mark Graves Of Crewmen

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) —

The fate of eight missing crewmen from the sunken ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell may be hidden today on the bottom of Lake Huron, their grave marker a bobbing navigation buoy.

A sonar-equipped search plane located what is believed to be the 603-foot freighter under 198 feet of water Friday, more than three days after the 60-year-old vessel split in two in a raging gale.

Only one member of the 28-man crew — 26-year-old Dennis Hale of Ashtabula, Ohio — survived. Apparently he suffered no after-effects from 36 hours on an open life raft.

Broken oars, life jackets and other debris from the wreckage littered the shoreline near Harbor Beach. A rudder and a portion of a life boat were discovered about the same time the sunken hull was spotted.

Portage Native Killed in Action

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—

Army Lt. Lloyd S. Smith was killed in action in Viet Nam Nov. 10, his wife, Jean, of Decorah, has been informed by the Defense Department.

He was riding in a helicopter which was hit by enemy small arms fire and crashed, officials said.

A native of Portage, Wis., Smith was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1965. He entered the Army later that year.

Smith's wife lives in Decorah with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Heinz.

Doctors Say Aranson Couple Acted Bravely During Ordeal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Their doctors say Mr. and Mrs. Michael Aranson endured the "terrible thing" — the deaths of their quintuplets — bravely. Today, the young couple looks to the future "maturely and sensibly." And, perhaps the future will bring a normal, healthy baby.

A week ago today, Mrs. Aranson, 22, gave birth to quintuplets, all girls, 2½ months premature. The joy was dulled by the realization that the survival of all five was indeed a long shot.

One by one, they died. When the end came Friday, Dr. Bass said Mrs. Aranson took the news "quite good, as good as any young woman who has gone through such an ordeal."

The doctor said "We talked very truthfully with the parents during the whole ordeal, and they were expecting that this would happen. It's a pretty terrible thing for them to have gone through. A normal, healthy pregnancy is a big enough crisis in anyone's life."

"This young couple has continued to amaze me for the days

Attorneys For Alfonsi Ask Court To Free Him of Bribery Conviction

Decision Called Unjust

MADISON (AP)—

The Wisconsin Supreme Court was urged Friday to free former Assembly Republican leader Paul R. Alfonsi from a bribery conviction on the charge of peddling his legislative power for a $100 expense check.

Alfonsi's attorneys told the seven justices that the Minocqua legislator long had supported the highway construction bill involved and that the check concerned legitimate expenses.

Newspaper publicity, trial errors and a jury confused over what expenses were legal led to an unjust conviction, the defense attorneys said.

'Euphemism'

Ass't. Atty. Gen. William Platz retorted, "I don't know whether it was an euphemism or not that it was for expenses, but the fact is that he got $100, and he didn't have to account for it."

Sixty-six-year-old Chief Justice George Currie avoided setting a deadline for the court ruling. The next decision day is scheduled for Jan. 3, eight days before the 1967 Legislature convenes, but Currie said it might be impossible to rule by that date.

Alfonsi, 58, sat tensely on a frail folding chair against a wall of the marble chambers of the Supreme Court as the attorneys debated his fate. At least twice he shook his head in dispute of Platz's arguments.

Voters Unswayed

The bribery conviction bars the former assembly speaker from public office as long as it remains on the books. Voters, unswayed by the verdict, returned Alfonsi for a ninth term in the Nov. 8 election.

Alfonsi, his hands quaking visibly as he held a cigarette in the Capitol corridors after the 61-minute hearing, would not try to predict how the court would rule.

"It's not within my right or my prerogative to attempt to prejudge what the court's going to do," Alfonsi said.

A jury in Madison convicted Alfonsi July 8 of accepting the $100 check as a bribe from Hayward businessman Anthony Wise. Both Alfonsi and Wise had testified the check was meant to cover expenses encountered on

Brillion Bears Omro as Little 9 Season Opens

Hortonville Downs Winneconne, 68-53

Winneconne and Omro, two of the Little Nine Conference favorites, fell by the wayside in opening round loop action Friday night as they were surprised by Hortonville and Brillion, respectively.

Reedsville, notched a convincing triumph, while Hilbert and Shiocton also posted victories.

Winneconne's defending champion Wolves, managed to stay even with the fired-up Polar Bears for one period, but were outscored in every canto thereafter as Hortonville gained a 68-53 triumph.

The Polar Bears all but iced the contest in the third period, stretching a 6-point halftime lead into an 11-point bulge at quarter's end. Caning 23 of 39 attempts from the floor for nearly a 60 per cent mark, Hortonville was not to be denied.

Paced Attack

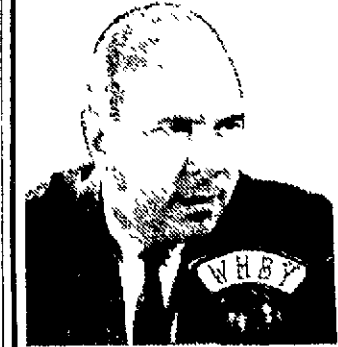

Ron Nagreen and Gary Priebe paced the balanced Polar Bears' attack with 16 points each, while Don Flanagan and John Baittinger led the losing Wolves with 16 and 13 markers, respectively.

Featuring a balanced attack, Brillion, 3-0, overall, overpowered Omro, 85-70, as four players scored in double figures.

Paced by Russ Rohrdanz's 23 markers, and with able help from Russ Hanen (21), Boeder top total of 19 points. He sank seven of 18 floor attempts and five of seven free throws. Rosinsky and Pete Wilke lent able support, with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Scores 18 Points

For AHS, Bob Simon was the pace-setter. After missing all of his five field shots in the first quarter, Simon came back to sink seven of his final 13 tries. Simon, who finished with 18 points, spearheaded the fourth-quarter rally by scoring six straight points to bring AHS from three points behind to three ahead (54-51, with 1:53 remaining). George Hoffman, hitting well from the corners, tallied 12 points.

No other Terror hit a double-figure total, but Tom Hintz — a strong rebounder against a taller Manty team — scored nine. Simon, Hintz, Hoffman, and Gary Lutz went all the way for the Dick Emanuel-coached Terrors. Pat Garvey was the fifth starter, but he gave way early to Tom Jones, a 6-4 sophomore, who went most of the remaining distance.

Manty led, 10-9, after one quarter and 26-23 at the half. AHS came back to tie the count, 39-39, at the close of the third period. Lutz scored first in the final quarter for a 41-39 AHS lead. But the Ships countered with their barrage of free throws that produced a 7-point lead and set the stage for AHS' rally and Manty's counter-rally.

OCONTO FALLS — Oconto Falls poured in 47 points in the second half to erase a 37-29 halftime deficit and give the Panthers a 76-62 victory over Seymour in a Northeastern Wisconsin game here Friday night.

Sharp-shooting by Krueger, Diemer and Spice led the Panthers 27-point outburst in the third period, which brought them a 56-52 lead. The visitors were only down by four (58-54) with 3:00 left in the game, but several fast breaks sailed Oconto Falls to its biggest margin at the final gun.

The losers' Jim Danforth took game scoring honors, as he poured in 27 points. Pockat had 21 for Oconto Falls.

Dean Chance Traded to Twins

By MURRAY CHASS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dean Chance and Bo Belinsky, once the most notorious off-field duo in baseball, have had one more fling — but only through the drafting and dealing at the annual meetings.

The California Angels completed the link as the meetings neared an end Friday when they traded Chance, the Cy Young Award winner in 1964, to the Minnesota Twins for first baseman Don Mincher, outfielder Jammie Hall and pitcher Pete Cimino.

Dashing Duo

The Houston Astros triggered the fling at the start of the meetings by drafting Belinsky from the minor leagues.

The Angels ended the Hollywood high jinks of the dashing duo exactly two years ago when they traded Belinsky to Philadelphia.

Best Pitcher

Chance's turn came Friday. "That's a fine pitcher we gave up," Angels' manager Bill Rigney said. "He has the finest arm in the American League. I can't replace that arm. There's no way I ever could do that."

"I'm reluctant to lose him, but we had to get nine men on the field, so to speak. We didn't have a first baseman, and we needed some punch."

"We wanted to surround Rick Reichardt, whom we feel is or will be one of the finest hitters in the American League, with some power and give him a free swing and a full swing. I think that's exactly what we've done."

Chance, named baseball's best pitcher three seasons ago when he compiled a 20-9 mark, a 1.65 earned run average and 11 shutouts, followed Maury Wills and Tommy Davis in one of the most sizzling trading

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dean Chance and Bo Belinsky, once the most notorious off-field duo in baseball, have had one more fling — but only through the drafting and dealing at the annual meetings.

The California Angels completed the link as the meetings neared an end Friday when they traded Chance, the Cy Young Award winner in 1964, to the Minnesota Twins for first baseman Don Mincher, outfielder Jammie Hall and pitcher Pete Cimino.

Dashing Duo

The Houston Astros triggered the fling at the start of the meetings by drafting Belinsky from the minor leagues.

The Angels ended the Hollywood high jinks of the dashing duo exactly two years ago when they traded Belinsky to Philadelphia.

Best Pitcher

Chance's turn came Friday. "That's a fine pitcher we gave up," Angels' manager Bill Rigney said. "He has the finest arm in the American League. I can't replace that arm. There's no way I ever could do that."

"I'm reluctant to lose him, but we had to get nine men on the field, so to speak. We didn't have a first baseman, and we needed some punch."

"We wanted to surround Rick Reichardt, whom we feel is or will be one of the finest hitters in the American League, with some power and give him a free swing and a full swing. I think that's exactly what we've done."

Chance, named baseball's best pitcher three seasons ago when he compiled a 20-9 mark, a 1.65 earned run average and 11 shutouts, followed Maury Wills and Tommy Davis in one of the most sizzling trading

Game of Button Flip!

Egg Carton Is Required

BY CAPPY DICK

For the game of Button Flip you need a cardboard egg carton and five buttons. The must be of different colors. You will also need crayons or poster paints of the same colors.

With the carton upside down the bottoms of the cones look like small volcano craters. Paint these craters with colors that match the buttons. Paint the first pair of craters one color, the next pair another color, the next pair a third color, the next pair a fourth color and the remaining four craters a fifth color.

To play the game, place the carton upside down on the floor or table. Give the first player the five buttons, have him stand or sit a certain distance from the carton and tell him to flip the buttons at the target trying to land them in the craters (Figure 2) When he has flipped all five his score is added up.

He gets 20 points for each button that lands in a crater of its same color. He earns 10 points if a button lands in a crater of a different color. Buttons that miss the craters earn no points.

Play five rounds. The player with the highest total score is the winner.

Monday. Lots more good fun for every boy and girl! (Copyright, 1966)

Brillion Club's Zoning Appeal Up for Hearing

Conservation Group Asks Commercial Land Designation

BRILLION — A public hearing has been set for 8 p.m. Jan. 3 at the Calumet County Courthouse, Chilton, by the Calumet County Zoning Commission to air the Brillion Conservation Club's rezoning petition.

The club is asking to have a 65-acre parcel of their total 85-acre clubgrounds rezoned from agricultural to commercial.

The zoning commission's recommendation will have to be presented to the county board for approval. A final decision is expected at the county board's January session.

A club petition to have 20 acres of their clubgrounds rezoned from agricultural to commercial was denied earlier this year. Zoning commission members said, at that time, that they do not approve of "spot rezoning."

The new petition calls for a greater amount of land to be rezoned, and club members are optimistic that the outcome will be favorable this time. A 20-acre portion on the western extremity of the clubgrounds will remain zoned residential.

The zoning change is being sought so that non-members can patronize the clubhouse.

Promoting President Joins Fun

Jaycees Begin State Convention In Appleton With 'Beer Bust'

BY PAT DUFFEY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

APPLETON — Even Bill Suttle, national Jaycee president, was promoting at the Wisconsin Jaycees "Beer Bust" social Friday night when the annual mid-winter convention opened here this weekend.

Suttle's lapels were filled with buttons promoting various activities of the Jaycee chapters in the state.

Aside from his evident Carolinian voice, Suttle blended in with the rest of the Jaycees and Jaycettes at the annual mixer at the Conway Hotel.

Suttle arrived for his initial visit to Wisconsin Wednesday and since has been in nine cities in the state including Waupaca. The national president will be the keynote speaker for the Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer award dinner tonight at St. Joseph School.

Attend Game

He will remain in Wisconsin long enough to catch the first half of the Green Bay Packers-San Francisco 49er game Sunday in Milwaukee. From there he flies back to Tulsa, Okla., the Jaycees national home, before embarking on another barnstorming tour which will take him into Oregon.

Suttle earlier had been named an honorary Wisconsin Jaycee, as evidenced by the bell button on his lapel.

Suttle's lapels were a small sample of the promotion activities of the state's Jaycee chapters. Members garbed in colorful vests advertising their individual communities, were busy pitching their particular cause.

Advertising signs hung from every available nook and cranny. The glass doors leading into the hotel lobby were peppered with them.

Good Times For All

"Bring Your Wife. Good Time for All," said the Madison Jaycees in promoting for the state convention next May. "Vote Waupaca for the Teenage Rodeo" proclaimed another. "Lancaster for Road-E-O," said a third.

"Support Milwaukee for its bid for the '68 spring state convention," said the beer capital delegation's sign. The slogan was emblazoned on a map of the community pointing out cultural attractions and Mitchell Field.

"Fun galore in Baltimore. U.S. National Jaycees Convention June 25-30, 1967," proclaimed another. A large cheese cloth sign with red letters beckoned the Jaycees a fair welcome to the Fox Cities.

"More for Region 1," another cried, not indicating more of what.

Business Meetings

The Jaycees and Jaycettes settled down to the business at hand today with a prayer breakfast this morning and an assortment of forums and business meetings.

Past national president Richard Headlee is the headliner for this noon's dinner. Headlee headed the GOP campaign in Detroit for Gov. George Romney.

The Jaycettes will be meeting at the Appleton Theatre this morning and will climax their activities with the CAROL award dinner at which five young Wisconsin women will be recognized for their outstanding achievements.

The Jaycees and Jaycettes will merge for an afternoon forum on mental health.

Townsmen Fight Island Annexation

Opposition Centers on Takeover Without Referendum of Residents

BY PETER GENIESSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Town officials from suburban communities throughout the state relaxed somewhat in hearing the island annexation bill was unlikely to pass the legislature but weren't likely to ease their surveillance of the issue.

About 100 townsmen, members of the recently formed Wisconsin Suburban League, again voiced their opposition to any annexation without referendum of the people involved at a banquet at the Terrace Motor Inn Thursday evening.

Several representatives, including Town of Menasha Chairman Roland Kampe and Clerk Robert Jacobs, attended the sessions of the legislative council study group in Madison earlier in the day.

The state group forwarded without recommendation a proposal to establish procedures for the annexation of a limited number of isolated town territories completely surrounded by a city or village. The state study unit declined to throw its support behind the measure when no referendum provisions were included.

"I hope the bill dies a happy death," Jacobs, head of the league, said. He added that the study group maintained "the voice of the people in annexation matters should be felt."

Assemblyman Kenneth Kunde, a Democrat from Sheboygan's First District and an author of the island annexation bill, spoke briefly but declined to back down on his proposal. He said he attended the gathering of the suburban townsmen to "gain an understanding of your problems."

The island annexation bill would apply only to a portion of a town's territory that had been isolated for three or more years after adoption of the measure and if the territory contained no residents.

Assemblyman Floyd Shurbert, Winnebago's 2nd District, said he thought any annexation without referendum was unfair and stated he would vote against any such bill. "People know where they want to go and if they want to be annexed," he said.

Assemblyman Ervin W. Conradt, Outagamie's 3rd District, agreed with Shurbert and the other town representatives. He said the cities created the islands which they want to annex. "When people don't have anything to say" on annexation matters, "this is communism," he declared.

Kampe added that if any politician ran on a platform where a person wouldn't have a choice where he wanted to live, there wouldn't be many legislators.

George St. Peter, an attorney from Fond du Lac and counsel for the league, pointed out the towns' group was organized because there are people who like the town form of government and want to protect it. "We are here in the interest of good local government."

The suburban league was formed about 18 months ago among Fox River valley townships but later expanded to include towns from the southern part of the state which faced similar problems in dealing with their urban neighbors.

The league now boasts a membership which includes 140,000 people and an equalized valuation of $800 million, according to Jacobs.

Ben Hanneman, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Towns' Association for almost 20 years, urged the newly formed group to seek "harmony" with other units in reaching their goals. He felt the older towns' association could work together with the suburban league for the benefit of all towns.

Man Terrifies Woman; Gets Jail Term

Victim Cowers in Woods for 3 Hours In Sub-Zero Cold

A Shiocton man who authorities said was responsible for frightening a 44-year-old woman out of her home into sub-zero cold for three hours early Friday, was sentenced Friday afternoon to 30 days in jail after he pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 of disorderly conduct.

Judge Gustave J. Keller, in imposing the sentence on Robert D. Steede, 26, commented, "I'm sorry the law doesn't provide for a more severe penalty because you would get it." A 30-day sentence is the maximum allowed for a disorderly conduct charge.

The court was given the following account after Steede was arraigned.

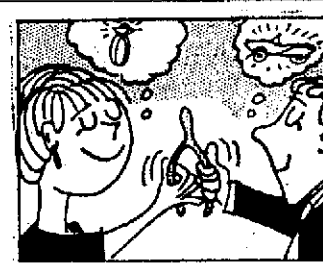

Steede came to the Shiocton woman's home to pick up her 16-year-old son about 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

About 3:15 a.m. Friday, he returned to the home and told the woman her son was in jail in Appleton. (He, in fact, was not.) When the woman asked for a ride to a relative's house so she could go to Appleton, Steede reportedly grabbed her by the throat and hair.

She broke away and fled into a wooded area behind her home. Wearing only her nightclothes and a robe, she remained hidden in the woods until about 6 a.m. when police said she summoned the courage to go the quarter mile to a relative's home from where Shiocton police were notified.

Shiocton and Outagamie County authorities arrested Steede a couple of hours later, on a Shiocton street. Police said the Shiocton woman was considerably upset and suffering from exposure after her three-hour ordeal. Police did not think she was hospitalized.

The court was told that Steede is on parole to the State Department of Public Welfare on a felony count.

22 DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Cities Support of Airport Aid Likely

Ask FAA Action on Craft Noise

Special to The Post-Crescent

LAS VEGAS, Nevada — Continued support from the 13,500-member National League of Cities appears assured for a permanent long-term federal aid for-airports program.

It is one of the many planks in the policy of the Congress of American Cities being held here through Wednesday.

The League policy also urges the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to step up research on aircraft noise and safety problems.

The policy, which touches many bases, is the foundation around which municipal officials through their state organizations (League of Wisconsin Municipalities) build legislative programs in city councils, state legislatures and the U.S. Congress.

Grant Agreements

Representatives of city government here feel the FAA administrator should be authorized to:

— Enter into grant agreements with local public agencies prior to the years when grant funds are available for payments.

— Include in the federal airport grants the work done prior to signing of the grant agreement, providing the work is in accordance with the approved plans.

— Make grants for work already done on port construction or expansion pursuant to a grant agreement in a prior year when funds were insufficient.

Local Applications

The recommendations, when made applicable to Outagamie County Airport, Appleton; Winnebago County Airport, Oshkosh; Austin Straubel Field, Green Bay; and other ports in the Fox Valley, are most favorable.

For Appleton, Oshkosh and Green Bay they would eliminate a maze of administrative and policy problems as these airports rely on federal grants for expanding existing facilities to accommodate mounting commercial, industrial and private flying activity.

The National League policy also opposes any application of the Civic Aeronautics Board (CAB) of the so-called regional airport policy (Outagamie and Winnebago Counties previously were in the courts over the CAB regional port designation going to Oshkosh) which "fails to fully recognize that the paramount public interest in air service is the economic interest of the air carrier."

Half Decade Census

Other objectives of the League, which will be fully reviewed during the annual Congress of American Cities now underway, are those that:

— Call on the U.S. Congress to authorize a population census every five years, instead of ten, and provide adequate funds to do so. The next census is due in 1970.

— Urge continued assistance for public and school libraries at a level to meet the nation's library needs.

— Advocate payment to municipalities of an annual sum in lieu of taxes on federally owned property. Federal buildings are now tax exempt.

Special Benefits

— Would call for enactment of federal legislation permitting assessment of federally-owned buildings and property for special benefits. Presently, when normally assessable public works projects are carried out on a street, all federal buildings are exempt from being assessed

James Seversons at Parfreyville

Fire Routs Family In Rural Waupaca

WAUPACA — The James Severson family, route 2, Waupaca, was left homeless, Friday, when fire caused extensive damage to the family's home, five miles south of Parfreyville.

The fire was discovered shortly before noon by a member of the family who smelled smoke and found sparks coming from an electrical outlet in the kitchen. It is believed the fire was caused from faulty wiring.

Waupaca firemen managed to extinguish the blaze, but not before the entire second floor of the house was burned or scorched by flames. The first floor was damaged extensively by smoke and water. Firemen fought the blaze in near zero temperatures.

Outside Wall

According to firemen a blaze apparently started in an outside wall near the bottom, and spread up the wall to the second floor and attic.

While firemen battled the fire, Severson and volunteers carried most of the first floor furnishings outside. Second floor bedroom furnishings, and most of the family's clothing, were either destroyed or badly damaged.

The family of five plans to stay with neighbors and relatives. No estimate of the loss has been made.

Arsonist Seeks Counsel Via Supreme Court

Richard Cornelius May Appeal Term Set in Appleton Trial

Richard Allen Cornelius, 20, who on May 2 was sentenced to five years in the State Reformatory after a 12-member jury found him guilty of three counts of arson, may be seeking an appeal of his case.

It was learned Friday that the former rural West De Pere youth has applied to the State Supreme Court for appointment of legal counsel.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer said today that Franklin W. Clarke, clerk of the State Supreme Court, requested his office for an opinion as to whether Cornelius was indigent. Schaefer, in a return letter, said he is of the opinion that the youth is indigent.

The district attorney said he knows "nothing more about the case at this point."

Cornelius was charged by Outagamie County authorities with setting fires that destroyed Immaculate Conception Catholic Church and barns owned by George Verkuilen and Louis Peterson early the morning of Oct. 31, 1965, in the Town of Oneida.

Committee to Recommend New Director

A three-member committee this afternoon is expected to recommend the name of a new Appleton Director of Public Works to Mayor George L. Buckley.

The committee is headed by Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), common council president, and two civil engineers.

Four individuals are reportedly being considered for the directorship. City personnel department officials said today that the group will probably recommend just one name for the mayor's approval, rather than a listing of applicants in order of preference.

If Mayor Buckley appoints the person chosen by the committee, the name will then appear before the council for final approval at the council meeting next Wednesday.

Fire Damages Paper Machine

COMBINED LOCKS — Fire of undetermined origin caused extensive damage to No. 2 papermill at the Combined Mills about 4:45 a.m. Friday.

Fire started in the drier section of the machine, burned the drier felt and a section of the plant and all machines were shut down as personnel assisted volunteer firemen in fighting the blaze.

Firemen remained at the scene until 6:15 a.m.

The Kaukauna Fire Department was summoned but was not needed.

The four other papermachines resumed operation about 7 a.m. No damage estimate was available. Company officials did not know how long the machine would be out of operation.

State Will Hold Water Institute on Shoreland Zoning

MADISON — Recognizing that the program will be "very difficult," the State Department of Resource Development will hold a special institute at the University of Wisconsin Jan. 20 to counsel county officials and others charged with responsibility under the mandatory new state law providing for the zoning of lake and stream shorelands.

Experts will lecture on the complexities of the new requirements written into the 1965 water protection law, said Director Freeman Holmer of the state agency.

Under the new law, counties are given until Jan. 1, 1968, to work out adequate zoning ordinances. Otherwise the state agency is required to write laws for the counties. Holmer said he is hopeful that the state will be able to provide guidelines for county action before next June.

Weyauwega Tips Comets In CWC Overtime, 61 to 60

Wittenberg, Marion Also Notch Wins in Conference Action

Weyauwega bumped Waupaca out of a first-place tie with a 61-60 overtime win, and Wittenberg and Marion picked up victories in Friday night's Central Wisconsin Conference games.

The Weyauwega High School gym was the site of the overtime battle as Wega and Waupaca battled to a 55-55 tie during regulation play.

Tom Rohde of the Indians led all scorers with 21, while Jim Dushak, of Comets notched 18. Aiding the Indian cause were Dick Reissler and Tim Nolan, hitting 12 and 11, respectively. In double figures for the Comets were Dan Peterson with 15, and Steve Shambeau with 11.

With one minute remaining in regulation play, Warnke meshed a free throw to tie the game for the 15th time. Then, with 21 seconds remaining, Don Oehlke committed his fifth foul, but the free throw was missed.

At the start of the overtime, Shambeau sank a quick basket, but Rohde came right back to tie it. Warnke fired in two free throws, giving Wega a 59-57 lead.

Tim Nolan then stole the ball, and scored to give the Indians a 61-57 lead. Jim Dushak netted two free throws, to bring Waupaca within two, 61-59.

Another foul sent Phil Durrant to the line, and he meshed the first one — to make the score 61-60 — but he missed the second with only a few seconds to play. Weyauwega kept control of the ball and hung on to the victory.

The Wittenberg Wildcats, using balanced scoring, trimmed the Wolves 60-55, in the Manawa gym.

The winners' Jerry Aanonsen took the game's scoring honors, hitting 11 field goals and a free throw for 23 markers.

For the Wolves, Dave Sabrowski and Greg Rohde led the way, hitting 18 and 16 points, respectively.

Marion outscored Amherst in every quarter to register an 83-68 win on the Falcon's home court. Both teams shot 44 per cent from the field, but numerous Amherst turnovers enabled the Mustangs to sink five more 2-pointers.

Marion's Ron Radies and Amherst's Bill Readell shared scoring honors with 21 points each.

Court Hears Rape Charge

Neenah Man Named In Summons Issued By District Attorney

A 25-year-old Neenah man was scheduled to appear in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 late this afternoon on a charge of attempted rape of a 15-year-old Appleton girl.

The man, whom Appleton police did not have in custody early this afternoon, was named in a complaint and summons issued today by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer. Schaefer conferred with Appleton detectives for some time this morning.

The girl told police she was attacked and held at knife-point the evening of Nov. 16, as she walked home from Lawrence University Union Hall where she had been doing school work.

She allegedly was attacked about 9:30 p.m. between two houses at Sixth and State streets.

She told police the man, whom she described as being about 30 years old and having dark hair and glasses, struck her twice and kicked her in the stomach before fleeing. She said he pulled her coat over her head then tied the sleeves together.

The man reportedly left in a car as the girl lay on the ground. The girl was not hospitalized.

The girl told police she was attacked and held at knife-point the evening of Nov. 16, as she walked home from Lawrence University Union Hall where she had been doing school work.

She allegedly was attacked about 9:30 p.m. between two houses at Sixth and State streets.

She told police the man, whom she described as being about 30 years old and having dark hair and glasses, struck her twice and kicked her in the stomach before fleeing. She said he pulled her coat over her head then tied the sleeves together.

The man reportedly left in a car as the girl lay on the ground. The girl was not hospitalized.

Industrial Commission Contents Ordinance Is Discriminatory

Attempts at conciliation failed Thursday in the case of whether women, specifically Mrs. Marge Wiza, should be allowed to tend bar in class B retail liquor establishments.

The city will issue a license to Mrs. Wiza, he said. With the license she would be allowed to work in hotels, restaurants or other establishments where less than 20 per cent of the total sales come from liquor purchases.

Position Upheld

Geenen upheld the position of the council and said that if the ordinance was amended, the council would be the deciding body.

"We basically feel that we are not discriminatory and that this is the prerogative of home rule," Geenen said of the city ordinance.

As long as the council takes the position of forbidding women to tend bar in class B retail establishments, Geenen said, he will challenge the position of the state commission.

Greek Orthodox to Fete Patron Saint

Appleton Church to Celebrate Feast Day of St. Nicholas

The feast day of St. Nicholas, patron saint of the Appleton Greek Orthodox Church, will be celebrated at a 6:30 p.m. vesper service Monday.

Highlighting the service will be the blessing of the St. Nicholas icon by 10 priests, who will also participate in the blessing of the oil, wine and the five loaves of bread.

The clergymen are holding a meeting of the Eastern Orthodox Fellowship of Wisconsin in Appleton for the first time. After the dinner, they will participate in the celebration of the feast of St. Nicholas.

Attending Clergy
 Attending will be the Rev. Constantine Capoyiannis, pastor, the Rev. Nicholas Liberis, Holy Trinity, Fond du Lac; the Rev. Nicholas Katinas, Assumption, Madison; the Rev. Peter Papademetrius, Assumption, Racine; the Rev. Nicholas Voucanos, St. Spyridon, Sheboygan;

The Rev. Paul Lazor, St. Cyrenlos Methodos; the Very Rev. George Thomas, St. Constantine-Helen; the Rev. Emmanuel Vergis, Annunciation; the Rev. Sava Vujkov, St. Sava; and the Rt. Rev. Archimandrite Vissarion, Holy Virgin Protector, all of Milwaukee.

St. Nicholas, patron saint of sailors, lived in the fourth century in Asia Minor, now Turkey.

Gave Wealth

Born rich, Nicholas gave his wealth to the needy, and went into the priesthood. When the see of Myra in Lycia became vacant, Nicholas was selected to become the archbishop of the Church.

The story goes that the council was undecided upon whom to select. Then a plan was revealed to one of the prelates. He was told to go to the church the next morning and then to select as archbishop the first cleric who would come to pray. And so Nicholas was selected.

He is said to have attended the First Ecumenical Council in Nicea in 325 and there defended the belief in Christ's divinity. He reportedly also smote Arius, the heretic, when he blasphemed Christ and that is why many icons of Nicholas picture the Lord and the Holy Virgin restoring to him the gospel and stole after the act.

Trump Opening Advisable

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

As a rule, to open a trump is to play declarer's game rather than your own. It is a fine idea to open a trump, however, when partner passes your takeout double of one of a suit. Your best chance to defeat such a low contract is to draw trumps and then take your side tricks.

South makes the contract if West leads the king of diamonds. Declarer takes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond, cashes the ace of hearts and gives up a heart.

The defenders may return a trump, but it is too late. South wins and ruffs a heart in dummy. Now he can ruff another diamond in his hand, and he thus makes two high trumps, two ruffs in his hand, one ruff in dummy and the two red aces.

Goes Down

South goes down if West opens his singleton trump instead of the king of diamonds. East covers with the nine of trumps, and South must win with the king.

South cashes the ace of hearts, and West should drop the ten. When South continues hearts, West can play the seven, allowing East to win with the nine. East returns a trump, driving out the ace — and removing the last trump from the dummy.

South can take the ace of diamonds and ruff a diamond, but that is the end of the road

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

No room at the inn... a haven by the manger.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY—I

Shortly before the birth of Christ, Mary and Joseph had to journey to Bethlehem to be taxed, as ordered by the emperor. They found the city overcrowded, and no room in the inn. There was anxiety in their hearts, but faith sustained them, and they managed to discover a stable where they might abide. At that moment it must have seemed that only the cattle and sheep would be there to welcome the birth of the Savior.

Daily Question

Dealer bids one spade, and you double. Partner responds two hearts, and it is up to you again (the opponents pass throughout except for the opening bid.) You hold: S 8; H Q J 10 7; D K Q J 9; C A Q 10 9. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts. Partner will make a game in hearts if he has a couple of high cards — say the king of hearts and perhaps the jack of clubs, or two kings. You cannot afford to bid the game all by yourself because you have forced partner to bid, and he may have a completely worthless hand.

Anglican-Jew Dialogue in Fourth Year

Canadians Stress Lack of Conversion Attempts in Talks

By IRVING C. WHYNOT

TORONTO (AP) — Four years ago the Toronto Diocese of the Anglican Church gave one of its priests a new job: Get Anglicans and Jews talking together.

The Rev. Ronald de Corneille, who got the job, has been talking ever since, almost with missionary zeal, although that probably is the description he'd like least since he has taken great pains to emphasize the absence of any conversion motives.

Even so, some Toronto Jews aren't convinced; others are reserved; some see hope in the program for a better interfaith understanding. Father de Corneille isn't dismayed.

"After 2,000 years of persecution," he tells his Anglican study groups, "can anyone blame them for being suspicious?"

New Relationship
 He has already brought thousands of Christians and Jews together for talks in what he calls "this new relationship."

And while there are some Anglicans as well as Jews who doubt the program's chances of success, it has been something of a pacesetter as far as the Church generally is concerned.

So much so that Father de Corneille's just-published book, "Christians and Jews: Dialogue," will be used by the National Council of Churches, representing the major non-Roman Catholic faiths in the United States, for interfaith conversations there. The program also has attracted attention in Europe.

Father de Corneille, 39, is a native of Switzerland whose father was at one time Protestant chaplain-general of the French army. He studied in the United States and Canada and worked as a statistician and advertising man before settling in the ministry.

Study Sessions
 "Christians and Jews: Dialogue" sets out the guidelines Father de Corneille uses in his study sessions with Anglican lay groups.

How do the Jews feel about it all?
 Four Toronto rabbis were reserved about the project when it was announced four years ago.

Here's what they said then, and what they say now:
 Rabbi Bernard Rosenweig — 1962: "I have a feeling that this in effect is another, more subtle, conversion attempt and Jews should be wary." Now: "There is an honest attempt among the more liberal elements of the Church to come to an understanding with Judaism, but we are still wary of the general approach of conversion of the Church."

Faith Commitments
 Rabbi Walter Wurzberger — 1962: "I feel that a mass movement involving laymen simply would be another missionary effort even if it had a new name." Now: "Dialogue is of value only on an academic level. It's impossible to translate the faith commitments of one religion to another."

Rabbi Gunter Plaut — 1962: "I welcome this new approach. Religion has been a divisive force for too long." Now: "I think we have made some progress, though not as much as first was hoped for."

Rabbi Erwin Schild, who himself has taken part in dialogue — 1962: "A true dialogue would help the Christian and the Jew understand himself better. But anything else is doomed to fulfillment." Now: "My experience in this field since 1962 has shown me that some of the dialogue, especially on the level of the clergymen, is valuable, providing both parties divest themselves of any hopes of conversion."

Students Collect Gifts; Don't Know Where to Send Them

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Students at Metropolitan Junior College collected 1,500 pounds of cookies, books and other Christmas gifts for men from this area in Viet Nam. But they can't get rid of them.

They say there is no way of getting the addresses in Viet Nam of the servicemen.

Student leaders have tried many avenues — the Red Cross, military offices and members of Congress — but have run into dead ends. Fearing crank letters from those opposed to the Viet Nam war, the government will not disclose mailing addresses of servicemen overseas, the students said.

Set Service Times
 EMBARRASS — Services will be at 7:30 and 10:30 a.m. Sunday at the Zion Lutheran Church. The Rev. Edgar E. Barg is the pastor.

Laymen will conduct the 9 a.m. service Sunday at the Embarrass Congregational Church.

The Vote Against Red China

The vote in the United Nations to deny Red China the seat now occupied by the government on Taiwan was an interesting one. It indicates that the United States may have to worry more about ways of breaking down hard lines than about people being duped by communism. Last year the vote on a resolution to admit Red China was a tie, 47 to 47. Since the matter had been determined to be "one of importance" and thus required a two-thirds vote for approval, it was a long way from acceptance. But the vote this year was much more opposed to membership with 46 votes for and 57 against. Those newly against came mainly from countries which abstained last year but there were also some changes of votes from pro to con. Of most interest is the fact that sixteen black African nations, once feared to be infiltrated by Chinese Communists, voted firmly against admittance. While the growing awareness of the dangers of communism among developing nations is encouraging, the vote opposing the appointment of a committee to sound Red China out on its attitude toward U.N. membership was disappointing. The resolution was introduced by Italy which unsuccessfully argued that it should be considered a procedural matter requiring only a majority approval rather than a matter of importance. But even had this decision gone for the idea, it would have failed as the vote was 62 to 34 with 25 abstentions.

Natural Beauty and the People

One of the most satisfying elements of the natural resources conservation story in Wisconsin, as these columns have observed from time to time, is the tangible proof that the ordinary man and woman of Wisconsin is responding to the enormous values represented in the beauty of the natural landscape. There has been a tendency in public and press discussions over the years to confine the definition of "conservationist" to the excessively narrow groups of deer hunters, or trout fishermen, or whatever. Actually, we believe that the definition today embraces the majority of the residents of Wisconsin, strangers to the art of the dry fly, and ignorant of the ways of the wildlings in the forest though they may be. The proof is in the ever-enlarging scope of our public natural resource protection efforts with broad public backing. The new water protection program enacted with scarcely a ripple of public resistance in the legislature was an effective illustration. Current planning for a doubling of the Outdoors Recreation Program budget, under the prodding of a blue ribbon commission of leading citizens, will almost surely win a cheerful greeting from the legislature next month, if we appraise the political atmosphere correctly. There are many other proofs. But one of the most convincing was recently offered by James Green, of the Committee to Keep Wisconsin Clean and Beautiful, in an address in New York at a meeting which brought Wisconsin national honors for its highway beautification work.

Watch That Guess!

Sometimes in perusing the news of the day we wonder about the advisability of creating a public office which would have the duty of challenging the habit of careless statistical speculation, something like the office of censor in the days of ancient Rome. Even a casual reading of the papers brings examples of outlandish guesswork involving statistics. The other day we noted a politician saying that tourism brings a billion dollars a year in gross income to Wisconsin. We have observed other calculations of half a billion and 700 millions for the income equivalent of the Wisconsin tourist industry. But the matter is not susceptible to

Certainly the effort of Red China to infiltrate some of the new countries contributed to the growing opposition. Perhaps of greater importance, at least among the larger nations, has been the agitation within China at this time. The emergence of the fanatical Red Guards, the confusion over exactly who is in control, rumors of an army coup led by the militant Lin Biao, and the flagrant rejection of world opinion in the explosion of another nuclear device in China, have all alarmed much of the rest of the world. Unfortunately merely keeping Red China from membership in the United Nations is no solution. The Peking government may well prefer its belligerent isolation whereby it is not faced with living up to principles of decency required at least to some extent in the rest of the world. It might scornfully reject any invitation to join the United Nations on all but unacceptable terms. Nor is there any assurance that membership would serve to modify the rampant antagonism to western governments now so loudly shouted from Peking. But the Italian resolution to appoint a committee to take some steps toward finding out could not have made things any worse. The United States voted for the resolution and halfheartedly backed it. In the next year we can hope for more signs of leadership from the United States than was exhibited this year if the United Nations is ever to meet realistically the problem of Red China.

Mr. Green pointed to the fiscal record of the state's highway clean-up activities, which to our considerable surprise has shown a striking reduction of costs during the last few years. Last year the cost of litter and trash pick-up on the state highway system was put at $383,000, a reduction of nearly $100,000 from the expenditures of the two preceding years. While we may admit that the cost remains painfully high, there is nevertheless provided here the most persuasive proof possible that our conservation and beautification education endeavor is making an impression upon the average citizen. Because the mileage of vehicle travel is constantly increasing, the real saving in roadside litter retrieval is probably at the rate of $150,000 a year over the past years when a careless public soiled the roadsides without open protest of officials or condemnation of law. Doubtless the enactment of a realistic $25 fine for litterbug law violators was a factor in the achievement. Yet it is clear that there are not enough policemen available to deter the careless. The awareness of the individual motorist, and the aroused civic conscience of the state community, were surely the more important causes. We have responded to the cause of civilized outdoors housekeeping. What threatened to become a national scandal has been recognized. Conservation as a community commitment is making progress. The challenge is to maintain the momentum, and Mr. Green's committee is providing valuable leadership to that end.

proof, at least not without some assumptions about what tourism is. It is like the outdoors writer in southern Wisconsin the other day who firmly and precisely put the size of the Wisconsin deer herd at 700,000 animals, citing the state game division as his authority. The politician doesn't have the slightest idea of the monetary value of the Wisconsin tourist trade. But he knows that he cannot be refuted easily, and thus he is led into temptations to flatter an audience of tourist promoters. Sampling of typical wildlife range can bring credible estimates of the comparative population trends of a species, but to suggest that the deer herd in an area of perhaps 40,000 square miles can be estimated in any except the broadest terms is absurd.

Wrightstown Good Templar Hall

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 1, 1866.
The Good Templars at Wrightstown, Brown County, will dedicate a new hall tonight (Saturday). This is quite a notable event in that section of the country. A couple of years ago, not a single man in Brown County would have believed such an event possible in so short a time.

The last of the Thanksgiving turkey has hardly been finished when everyone in a very special town in Indiana gets ready for an avalanche of mail.
All the excitement in the ordinarily quiet, one-street town centers at the post office. That's where mail from all over the United States gets a very sought after postmark: Santa Claus.
At the start of the Yuletide season, the mail traffic really escalates. To the second class post office in this community of 80 population, there arrives several hundred thousand parcels and at least one million other pieces of mail.
All have the same request: Please re-mail the packages and letters so they have the Santa Claus, Ind., postmark.
The same thing happens, although to a lesser degree, thousands of miles from continental United States, at North Pole, Alaska.
There is a small post office at North Pole and when the Christmas season arrives it handles about 300,000 pieces of mail to be sent to addresses in every state of the union.

Froehlich One of Underestimated Men in Legislature Until Election

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — It is indisputable that the selection of Assemblymen Froehlich of Appleton and McKay of Ozaukee County as the chief spokesmen and managers of the Republican majority in the State Assembly for the legislative term is a signal for a more emphatic attempt to hold down the acceleration of state expenditures.

Wyngaard

Doubtless the result may be a biennial budget of somewhat smaller size than would otherwise have obtained. Both men were among the small but unsuccessful group of economy militants who tried, against the advice of their elders, to prune back Gov. Knowles' first term budget somewhat. They are among those younger men in the party who do not flinch when they are called "Conservatives." They prefer the adjective to that of "liberal" to describe their outlook in general.

Indeed, it is entirely possible that the strange persistence of much of the public press in tagging public men with subjective descriptions accounted for their somewhat surprising victory over other and more experienced members of their caucus. The opposing candidates were frequently labeled as "moderates," whatever that means, by the press which somehow doesn't insist upon such hyphenations to classify the doctrinal differences that exist as frequently among Democrats.

REFLECTS HEALTHY COMPETITION

Basically, however, the Assembly's organization contests reflected the normal, healthy and natural competition among ambitious young men for positions of rank and prestige that tend to be helpful in career-building.

Most of the members of the legislature, viewed a step or two distant from the capitol, are in fact anonymous, whatever they may fancy while they are in the whirligig of the favorite is Noel, in Missouri. The post office says that it receives as many as 50,000 pieces of mail during the days before the holiday arrives. There are other postmarks having Christmas themes, as the accompanying map indicates. At least nine cities have taken the name of the birthplace of Jesus — Bethlehem. Bethany, the ancient Palestinian community where Jesus' disciples witnessed the Ascension, is the name of at least eight communities. And, Bethel, the biblical community where Jacob had his vision, is the name of at least 13 American places. Connecticut is the only state with all three. Nazareth, sacred in Christian tradition as the residence of the Holy Family, is the name of at least three communities — one each in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Texas. There's a Faith in North Carolina and a Hope in New Jersey, but there doesn't seem to be a Charity among the postmarks. Other communities have names suggesting the Christmas atmosphere — from Snow Ball in Arkansas to Evergreen in Alabama to Holly in Colorado. There's one postmark to use to express the warmest of feelings. That can be done by having letters mailed from communities in Kentucky and Mississippi — both named Love.

People's Forum
Subsidy Not Answer For Private Schools

Editor, Post-Crescent:
In answer to the article in the Peoples Forum regarding private schools and signed by Concerned, I would like to make a few pertinent comments.
To begin with the party signed Concerned suggests that Appleton subsidize private school education. That in itself would be unconstitutional and even unwise for the Catholic Church to even suggest such a thing.
Why, might I ask is the Catholic Church the only one asking for the aid of the taxpayer to operate their schools?
I can certainly agree that it is a hardship on the parishioner to pay for the operation of private schools but that just can't be helped.
There is only one alternative to the problem and that is to close the private schools when it becomes too costly. It is true these children would have to be absorbed into our public school system but the cost per pupil figure given by Mr. or Mrs. Concerned is misleading and incorrect.
So let us not become frightened over the prospect of part or all the private schools being closed in Appleton.
Let it also be known here and now that the Lutheran Church is not asking for any subsidy directly or indirectly from the taxpayers to operate their schools. In fact, the Lutheran Church is on record as being opposed to any form of subsidy from the taxpayer.
Also concerned, but not panicked

Parents Should Boycott 'Hate' Toys for Children

Editor, Post-Crescent:
This Christmas, while choirs around the world are singing of peace on earth and "Silent Night," millions of children will be unwrapping gifts of toy guns, tanks and war games. We are teaching our children to kill before some of them even learn how to walk. It is the most disheartening and pitiful thing to watch children aim these "toy" weapons at their friends and parents and pretend to kill them. War has always been a part of man's life as well as murder, but can't we at least now, even in this instance, start the change. Toy manufacturers are not interested in the psychological factors involved in producing and selling these "hate" toys, and as long as people are purchasing them they will continue making them and will probably introduce more elaborate toy weapons in the future.
I will never forget a photograph, featured in a recent issue of Life Magazine showing Texas slayer Charles Whitman's family celebrating Christmas. There were more guns than teddy bears in the picture. The following page shows Charles Whitman, barely old enough to stand, posing with two of his father's rifles! I have since wondered how many guns Oswald and Speck were gifted with during their young lives and how many Oswalds and Specks we are still producing.
With all the other exciting toys on the market, it is a wonder that some short-sighted people still prefer to present their children with toy weapons. I am sure these children will find out soon enough what guns mean, what war means and what murder is. Meanwhile, why can't we give our children at least a few years of innocence and peace and maybe tomorrow there won't be any more wars.

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Bulgarian twin sisters celebrated their 104th birthday in excellent health and enjoying fullest mental ability, the news agency BTA reported.

Democrat Says Romney Can Win Over Johnson

Editor, Post-Crescent:
I have never voted for a Republican presidential candidate in my life but I would not hesitate to do so in 1968 if the Republicans nominate a candidate truly willing to change the direction of our present irrational foreign policy. For the moment I have hopes that Gov. George Romney may fill the bill. He seems to be a man of integrity and honesty who is not a hopeless reactionary in the tradition of Barry Goldwater and "Ronny" Reagan.
Although his views on national policies are a bit obscure, my political antennae tell me he would be a great president and restore the Republican Party to a position of responsible leadership in this country.
As long as I have nominated the next President of the United States, please permit me to nominate the next Vice-President if this is not too presumptuous for a person who nevertheless classifies himself as a Democrat. I believe the Republican Party would guarantee victory with Senator Mark Hatfield of Oregon. His courageous stand against the Administration folly in Viet Nam indicates that he has qualities of intelligence, rationality, and statesmanship, qualities sorely lacking in President Johnson.
The Republican Party is going to have to nominate people for President and Vice-President who have the confidence of Democrats, independents, and thinking Republicans. (Even the editor of The Post-Crescent was forced to reject the comedians selected by the GOP in 1964.) If the Republican Party fails to nominate candidates who are intellectually a part of the Twentieth Century, the party

Tokyo's Time-Honored Trolleys May Have Reached End of Line

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's metropolitan government has proposed the abolition of city-operated trolley buses and streetcars to save money.
The metropolitan government says that the lines are losing 18 million yen ($50,000) a day and has asked the city's assembly to abolish trolley buses by 1969 and streetcars by 1975. The assembly may act on the proposal before the end of this year.
Besides city-operated transportation, Tokyo has subways and privately owned buses.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise: I have no idea what brand (or what kind) of cooking oil women use that makes a film on the outside of their bottles and their shelves. For myself, I cut off the bottom of a large plastic bleach container (about three inches high) and set my family-size bottle of cooking oil in this container. It fits almost perfectly. Of course, for the smaller bottles of oil use smaller plastic bottle bottoms. Mrs. R.I. Brownburg

Now, I think you have really topped them all! Who in this wide, wide world of troubles would think to set a bottle of cooking oil down into that free little plastic bottle? You're just an angel, Shug. Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here is a telephone tip for everyone, but especially for lemons instead of throwing them away when the juice was gone. Before Christmas I gathered them together and had a lot of fun making tree ornaments with them. I sprayed some with gold paint and sprinkled gold glitter on them while still wet. Others I sprayed with snow and silver glitters. Heloise

I pushed straight pins (the kind with big heads) into the tops where the juice came out, tied metallic thread around the pin heads and hung my new ornaments on the tree. Not only do these look beautiful, but they are nonbreakable and can be decorated to match any color scheme. I have some new ideas on how to fix the plastic lemons I have saved this year. Nucla Reimers

Dear Heloise: As a token of your love and appreciation to a mother or father so dear, and yet so often taken for granted: Send them flowers on your birthday, thanking them for the life they gave you. . . Joe

Dear Heloise: I always had trouble keeping my sleeveless dresses on hangers. As we buy a lot of buns, I find the flat little plastic gadgets that hold the bun packages and some types of bread closed. . . work real good to hold my dresses on the hangers. Mildred Tehl

Dear Heloise: A small sugar scoop is great for putting the stuffing in your roast turkey, chicken, etc. Saves a lot of muss, fuss and bother. S.C.

Dear Heloise: Maybe this is not news . . . but I think the best way to clean patent leather shoes and purses is just plain ole kitchen vinegar. It even removes white lines around shoes from rain etc. Another reader (Copyright, 1966)

Bonanza' Basks Again In Television Limelight

Movies Enjoy Surge of Popularity, Too;
Several Features Fail to Make Top 20

BY JINGO

After faltering for about two months, "Bonanza" appears to have regained its full popularity and for the second straight week rates No. 1 on the American Research Bureau (ARB) top 20 TV shows.

sixth. The Universal feature, which now goes into foreign distribution, starred Anthony Franciosa and Jill St. John. Other ranked films were "Barabbas" (Friday on CBS) and "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" (Sunday on ABC).

Only Special

The only special in the top 20 was the National Football League game between Dallas and Cleveland on Thanksgiving night. The ARB ratings include only the 6:30-10 p.m. time period, so the game, rated No. 14, was judged only on the last 1½ hours (it started at 5 p.m.).

There were no new series in the top 20, but "Daktari" made its first appearance of the season, now in its 11th week.

The complete top 20:

1 — "Bonanza"; 2 — "The Lucy Show"; 3 — "Red Skelton"; 4 — "Jackie Gleason"; 5 — "Ed Sullivan"; 6 — "Saturday Night Movie" ("Fame Is the Name of the Game"); 7 — "Friday Night Movie" ("Barabbas"); 8 — "Gomer Pyle"; 9 — "Dean Martin"; 10 — Sunday Night Movie ("The Courtship of Eddie's Father");

From No. 11 to 20:
11 — "Andy Griffith"; 12 — "Hogan's Heroes"; 13 — "The Virginian"; 14 — NFL Football (Cowboys vs. Browns); 15 — "Peyton Place"; 16 — "Petticoat Junction"; 17 — "Green Acres"; 18 — "I Spy"; 19 — "Daktari"; 20 — "Lawrence Welk."

CBS again dominated the list, with 12 entries. The only top 20 ABC shows were "Sunday Night Movie," "Peyton Place I" and "Lawrence Welk." NBC had five — "Bonanza," "Saturday Night Movie," "Dean Martin," "The Virginian" and "I Spy."

The top 20 tells us what was most popular, but it gives no insight into what failed. Of particular interest is the failure of a special program to make the top 20. The week with which we're concerned today found several in this category. "Perry Como" had his first special. The debut of Leonard Bernstein's "Young People's Concerts" was on Wednesday. A Thanksgiving night special was titled "Ballad of Smokey the Bear." On Friday night there was a cute show, "It's a Dog's World." All failed to make it.

Not Liked Enough
Also not gathering enough viewers to be listed were two movies — "The Court Jester" with Danny Kaye (Tuesday) and "Jason and the Argonauts" with relative unknowns (Thursday). With five nights of movies, and six in January, it is interesting to compare which are watched, and to what degree.

The ratings for the upcoming week (Dec. 4-10) should prove fascinating. There are many specials of note, on which Jingo will discuss in Sunday's Showtime Magazine column.

Also on the program will be "Block M" by Jerry Blik; "Procession of the Sardar" by Ippoloto-Ivanov; and "Christmas Fugue" by Robert Brown. Prince of Wales" by Haydn, and "Christmas Fugue" by Robert Brown.

Sandy's Kidnaped On Flipper

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7 (Channels 4-5) — Brian Keith, papa Porter Ricks of Flipper, displays his directorial abilities with a mild adventure. Sandy (Luke Halpin) pokes his nose around some nasty gun-runners and in turn gets himself kidnaped.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Joanne Linville has a great deal of trouble brushing away her tears on Shane. After a long, dusty five year search to find the judge who sent her husband to the gallows she winds up on the plaintive plains determined to get the neck of Tom Tully, the peace-loving Tom Starett. A wily "lady" she encourages Bill Fletcher, a love sick detective, to do her dirty work. He is willing until he runs into our quick-at-the-draw hero.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — The Jackie Gleason Show slips behind the Iron Curtain for another jovial Honeymooners musical. There is considerable spoofing of the big, bad Reds as Ralph Kramden and Ed Norton pose as Soviet brass after stumbling into East Germany. Highlight is one of those vodka drinking supper parties and a cameo appearance by Art Carney's older brother, Edward Carney (a New York dentist) who turns up as a Russian commissar.

7-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — Please Don't Eat the Daisies has some frivolous fun when Patricia Crowley is named the "Woman Writer of the Year." When she is caught up in the swirl of flash bulbs, parties and interviews it appears she has forgotten about her hubby Mark Miller and their boys. Ready to lead her on to bigger and better (?) things is George Fenneman who plays a TV interviewer.

7:30-8 (Channels 4-5) — Get Smart in a funny satire tackles Rembrandt von Bronzefinger, an art thief-forger. This is an obvious spoof, of course, on James Bond's old foe, Goldfinger. And it is spiced up with a bluepainted agent dying of suffocation and vats sizzling with boiling metals Joseph A. Sirola plays the villain with teeth-grashing gusto.

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — Pistols 'n' Petticoats, one of the sillier comedy series, is nevertheless amusing ribbing Old West heroes Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday. In this version Roy Engel plays Wyatt as an old fool and Don Beddoe is equally devastating as a shaky Doc. There's a big shoot-out at and punctures their scheme with the pin of reality. Alan Arkin, who was last at an enthusiasm of limited effectiveness. In parable parts, Tim Preece, Drewe Henley and Austen Pendleton are deft and direct Ann Stockdale registers as the lass who drops by through my first two pregnancies with no trouble. This time, however, I am experiencing morning nausea and I can't eat anything until noon.

Is it possible for my husband to be sick on account of this, also? He actually throws up when I do and neither one of us can figure it out.

I told him I'd ask my doctor and he gave me orders to keep quiet about it. He suggested I write to you and sign a phony name which I am doing. Please reply in the paper? Thank you — Mrs. Smith

Dear Mrs. Smith: Your husband should get a physical check-up and learn if there is something organically wrong with him.

Don't be surprised if he gets a clean bill of health. It is not uncommon for the husband to take on a wife's symptoms. Some men have actually had "labor pains" when their wives delivered.

When you get to feeling better (soon, I hope) I'll bet he will feel better too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I teach in an elementary school in Baltimore. It rained today and I came home completely exhausted from snapping 25 raincoats and struggling with almost as many pairs of boots.

In the dead of winter it's worse. There are leggings, sweaters, galoshes, storm coats and hats.

Please, Ann Landers, tell mothers through your column that by the time their children are old enough to go to school they should be able to dress themselves and put on their own boots. This means that lessons in hooking, tying, buttoning, snapping and buckling should begin at age three. Much obliged. — Pooped

Dear Pooped: It's not only better for the teacher when the small fry can manage for themselves, it's better for the kids. Youngsters who are taught self-reliance are fortunate. Mental health begins in infancy. Independence and a sense of achievement are important cornerstones. A few minutes a day will do it, mother.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is approaching dating age and I'm terrified. I believe children should be trusted, but in today's society can't too much trust be dangerous?

Celeste says double-dating is a good safeguard against getting into trouble, but I don't think it means anything anymore. From what I read, heavy petting is so commonplace that there is no longer safety in numbers.

Don't you think parents should go to the movies with a daughter and her date? They don't have to sit together but they could be somewhere around. Also, don't you think parents should encourage their teen-age girls to entertain boy friends in the house so they Here's an idea for you to try. Ask both your doctor and dentist to help.

Most hospitals do not have equipment other than your dentist has, and a general anesthetic may not be feasible. Short of extensive surgery, which you would not need anyway, I strongly doubt that hospitalization would be either needed or advisable.

However, your doctor, once you explain your problem to him, might be able to get you over the first hump — getting to the dentist's office — with the aid of tranquilizers.

Your dentist can then institute a nerve block which will prevent pain from either drilling or extraction. Modern dental technique has been constantly improving, and that includes the last 12 years. High speed-drills and cooling methods make ordinary drilling very close to painless, and pain can be avoided by the nerve block and other procedures if they are required.

I strongly suspect that after your first visit you will have your problem well under control. Let me know, will you?

Dear Dr. Molner: I had a missed abortion, and had conflicting advice on the advisability of a D. & C. immediately. I did not have this done, and now wonder what effect this might have on future pregnancies.

Also could you enlighten me as to what happens physically when a missed abortion occurs? Does the afterbirth remain in the uterus? — Mrs. N.C.

Abortion applies to termination of a pregnancy before the 16th week. In a missed abortion, the products of conception have not been expelled from the uterus, and may remain for a long time. There may or may not be subsequent bleeding to indicate trouble.

When such a condition occurs, a D. & C. (dilation and curettage) ultimately is necessary to remove the decadent tissue. If this is not done, a future pregnancy may not occur, and your health is likely to be impaired.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have diabetes and regularly test my urine for sugar. Usually the tests are negative but sometimes the color changes to orange, indicating sugar. How can the same sample be both negative and show sugar? — N.S.

I don't know what test you use, but most of them specify a time limit, a minute or so. It is quite possible after expiration of the limit for further chemical reactions to occur, thus causing a change in color even without the presence of sugar. So follow instructions carefully, with attention to the time specified. Note the result of the test within that time, and disregard whatever happens later.

Note to A.R.R.: Wheat germ is a nourishing food; expecting it to be a medicine or to make any particular change in your health is futile.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem. If your child has the habit, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of his helpful booklet, "Enuresis — Ten Ways to Stop Bed-Wetting." Please enclose envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Attorneys Say Alfonsi Ruling Was 'Unjust' speaking trips to seek public support for the bill.

The check was accepted by Alfonsi during the October, 1965, session of the Legislature. The bill, providing a speedup in major highway and expressway construction, eventually was passed in this spring's session.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles, after the indictment, gave Alfonsi the first of the pens he used in signing the bill into law. He called the conviction a "travesty on justice."

The indictment, returned by a grand jury after a three-month investigation of lobbying in the Legislature, charged Alfonsi with accepting the $100 as part of an understanding to assume leadership on the bill.

Defense attorney Donald C. O'Melia of Rhinelander argued that Alfonsi already had confirmed with Wise "that he was a leader on the highway bill" eight days before the check was ever mentioned in their conversation.

Platz disagreed and said Wise asked Alfonsi to take leadership when he offered to send him the check Oct. 15. Alfonsi shook his head in dispute and sighed audibly in the courtroom.

Alfonsi's attorneys attacked the bribery law as fuzzy in working and therefore unconstitutional, but Platz, who helped write the law, replied, "They haven't pointed to a single word in this statute that is vague or indefinite."

Americans Losing More Aircraft Than Ever Before Say Soviets

MOSCOW (AP) — The Americans are losing more aircraft in Viet Nam than they did during World War II or the Korean War," the Soviet military newspaper Red Star said today.

"The time when U.S. aircraft flew over Viet Nam with impunity is over," Red Star added.

It cited only partial figures and made no attempt to support its claim with complete figures.

Red Star said North Vietnamese rocket troops brought down some 200 American supersonic jets and North Vietnamese pilots shot down 26 U.S. aircraft in 43 battles between July and September of this year, including some supersonic planes.

Red Star said the effective-

Family Starts Bold Journey

ROBINHOOD, Maine (AP) — A Chicago family was set to sail today on a five-to-seven-year dream cruise aboard a sturdy wooden yacht that resembles an ocean trawler.

Martin Roefer, 45, his wife, Helen, and their four sons hope to cover 10,000 miles on their voyage — southward to the Panama Canal, across the Pacific and Indian oceans, through the Red and Mediterranean seas, and home across the Atlantic.

Their 52-foot Mirage was built for them in this picturesque little port.

The boys — Martin, 12, Billy, 8, Jim, 6, and Larry, 5 — won't get out of school. Their mother is a teacher and plans daily classwork aboard ship.

"But we won't teach geography," Mrs. Roefer said, "The boys will be living it."

Wisconsin Is 11th for Pupil Spending in U. S.

MADISON (AP) — Ten states topped Wisconsin in the amount they spent per pupil for elementary and secondary education in 1964-65, a University of Wisconsin professor reported Friday.

Richard A. Rossmiller, associate professor of education administration, said Wisconsin averaged $532 per pupil. The figures compiled by the National Education Association places the state 11th in the nation.

The top five states New York, Alaska, New Jersey, Connecticut and California in that order, Rossmiller said.

He noted the total includes teacher salaries and operating and maintenance costs, but not funds for debt retirement or capital construction.

The state spending the least amount per pupil was Mississippi which had an average outlay of $273.

first stop for the required legislation would be in the House Ways and Means Committee.

It was disclosed Friday that a behind-the-scenes fight is shaping up over a vital assignment to that committee.

One candidate for the highly prized seat is Rep. Omar Burrellson, D-Tex., whose voting record is strongly conservative on fiscal matters. Another likely contender is Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., and another New York Democrat, Rep. Hugh L. Carey, also is reported to have shown interest in the assignment. Murphy and Carey are administration supporters.

The choice of a fiscally liberal or conservative Democrat for the committee post could determine, in some future close vote, whether or not the committee goes along with Johnson.

State Fatality Toll Hits 1,008

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin's highway fatality toll rose to 1,008 today with the death of a young Jefferson County woman in a one-car accident.

The toll at this time a year ago was 939. In 1964, the year in which a record 1,059 persons died, the toll on this date was 983.

Miss Barbara Reichert, 21, of rural Watertown, was killed early today when the car in which she was riding left a highway at a curve six miles east of Watertown and struck a utility pole.

Brillion Club's Zoning Appeal Up for Hearing

Conservation Group Asks Commercial Land Designation

BRILLION — A public hearing has been set for 8 p.m. Jan. 3 at the Calumet County Courthouse, Chilton, by the Calumet County Zoning Commission to air the Brillion Conservation Club's rezoning petition.

The club is asking to have a 65-acre parcel of their total 85-acre clubgrounds rezoned from agricultural to commercial.

The zoning commission's recommendation will have to be presented to the county board for approval. A final decision is expected at the county board's January session.

A club petition to have 20 acres of their clubgrounds rezoned from agricultural to commercial was denied earlier this year. Zoning commission members said, at that time, that they do not approve of "spot rezoning."

The new petition calls for a greater amount of land to be rezoned, and club members are optimistic that the outcome will be favorable this time. A 20-acre portion on the western extremity of the clubgrounds will remain zoned residential.

The zoning change is being sought so that non-members can patronize the clubhouse.

Two Drivers Hurt In 3-Car Menasha Crash Early Today

MENASHA — Three vehicles were involved in an accident at 1:06 a.m. today at Broad and Appleton Sts. which sent two of the drivers to Theda Clark Hospital by ambulance. Estimated damage to two of the cars is $500 and no charge has been filed pending further investigation. Menasha police reported today.

A car driven by Richard Masten Jr., 411 Congress St., Neenah, stopped along side the car of Wallace Kielblock, 704 1/2 First St., Menasha, police said. Kielblock left the Masten car to enter his own when, police reported, the Kielblock car was struck from the rear by a car driven by Miss Candace Jansen, 825 Seventh St., Menasha.

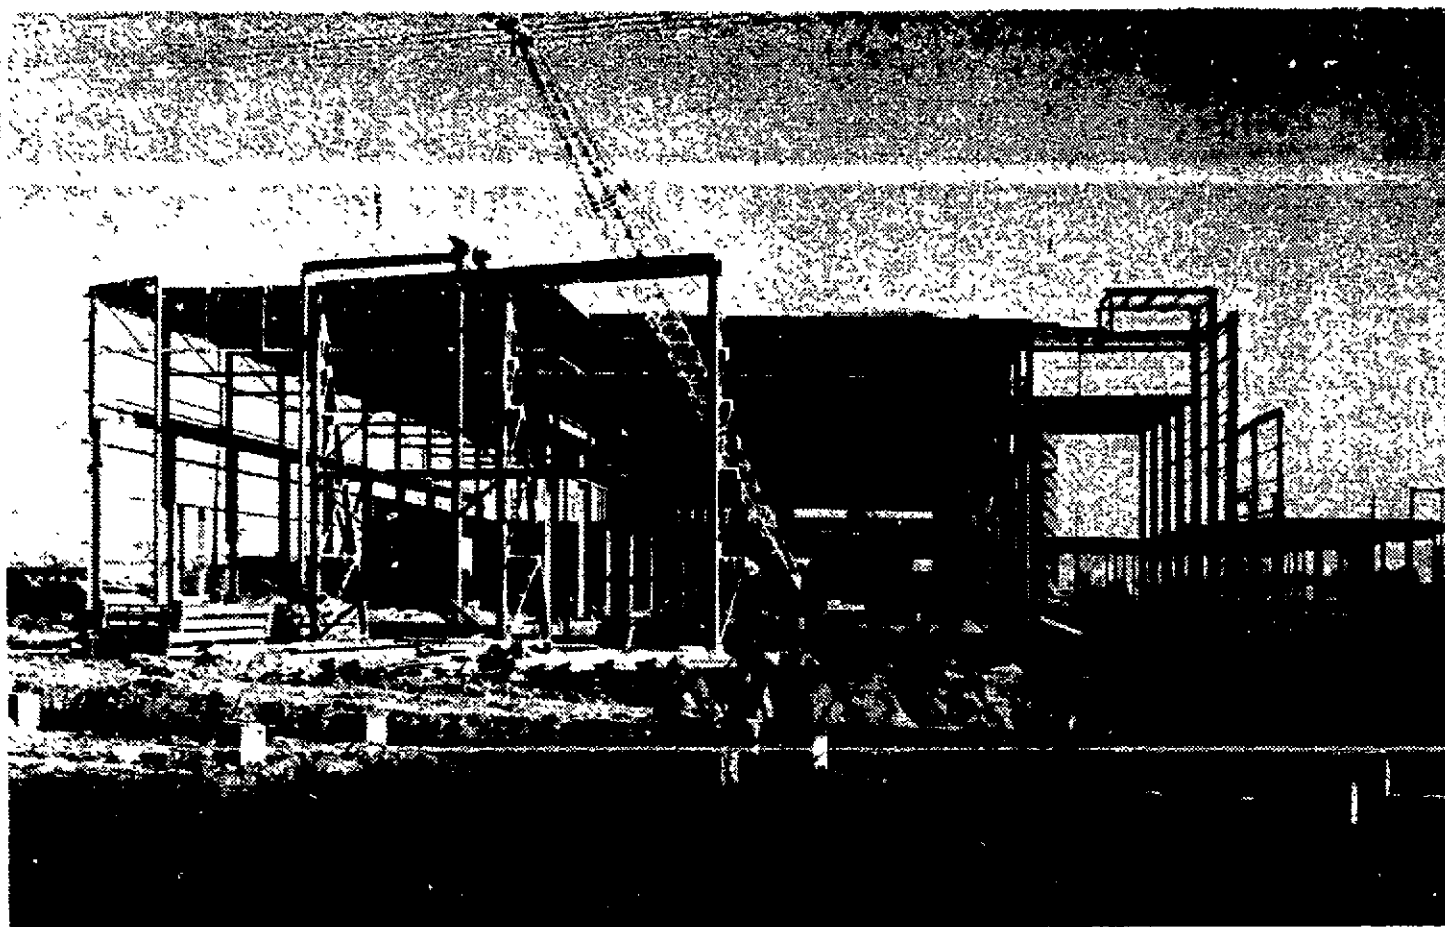

Kielblock received an injury to the right leg and Miss Jansen complained of a cut lip and shock, the report shows. Both were taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital. Kielblock was released from the hospital this morning. Jansen is still under the observation of her physician.

Miss Ruth Ann Daggert, 341 Grand View St., a passenger in the Jansen auto, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Masten, reported no injury.

Vandals Spray Auto

MENASHA — The owner of a light blue car was seeing red after he found it had been sprayed with purple paint Thursday afternoon.

Police said the man filed a complaint stating he had parked the auto near the water & light utility garage between 12:45 and 3:30 p.m. and when he returned, discovered the work of vandals.

Rail Crossing Delayed In Town of Neenah

NEENAH — The Public Service Commission has granted the Chicago & North Western Railway permission to delay until June 1, 1967, completion of a new grade crossing warning signal system south of the Neenah Foundry Co. plant.

The crossing was ordered after a hearing on Dec. 9, 1965, with the signals to be completed within a year of that date. The railroad informed the commission there has been a delay in construction of a town road across the tracks.

The new road, running east and west across the tracks, would serve the Kambo Co. warehouse south of the Foundry and would probably be known as Aylward Street.

Public Works Department

Mayor to Pick Director From List of 4 Names

A list of four names will be given to Mayor George L. Buckley early next week for the purpose of appointing a new director of public works for Appleton.

Director of Personnel Jerome Rusch said late Friday afternoon the list contains the names of four applicants who took the written and oral examinations for the city post.

A total of nine persons took the written examination. Five of those expressed further interest. Rusch said.

A three-member committee led by Ald. Roy Pointer, (14th), council president, Friday chose the names to be submitted to the mayor. The names will be submitted in no particular order. Rusch said.

Mayor Buckley may interview the applicants before making his final recommendation to the council next Wednesday.

Of the four persons being considered for the job, Rusch said, two are residents of Appleton. The post has been left vacant since former Director Robert Bues resigned in June.

William Steiger Schedules Talk To Young GOP

Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh's Young Republicans and Vet's Club will hear Congressman-elect William A. Steiger speak at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Clow Hall.

Steiger, who won the Sixth District Congressional seat from incumbent John Race, will comment on campaign practices and the election as a whole.

Steiger's speech was announced at the last Young Republican meeting by president Bill Wolke.

A formal resolution was passed at the meeting congratulating Mike Utech of Oshkosh Technical Institute for starting a Young Republican chapter there.

Sixth District Dem Dinner Fetes Race

FOND DU LAC — Sixth district Democrats are planning for an attendance of 300 to 350 party loyal for Sunday night's dinner here, billed as a "Race appreciation dinner."

The 6:30 p.m. affair in the Retlaw Motor Inn will honor Rep. John Race whose term as Congressman ends in January.

The affair will also help replenish party coffers depleted by the recent campaign in which Race went down in defeat.

The featured speaker will be Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette, the only Democrat to win election to a top state position in the executive branch in an election that tipped lopsidedly in favor of Republicans.

The $10-a-plate dinner is the first major party function in the district since the election, and could set the tone for the party's announced plans to retol for 1968.

Holmes Sees Bay Renewal

Says He Gained 'Better Conception' Of Gruen Project

MENASHA — Mayor Kenneth Holmes trekked to Green Bay this week to see that city's downtown renewal project for himself and to learn more about how it is being accomplished.

Holmes said Friday that he had gained "a better conception of what they are doing" in the neighboring city, but was cautious about similar achievements in Menasha.

The same planning firm, the nationally-known Victor Gruen Associates, is involved in the Green Bay project and has been hired to conduct Menasha's study upon which a master plan for redevelopment is to be based.

Before Menasha can carry out such a plan, he cautioned, it will be necessary for an economist to determine how extensive a project the city could support. Then an appraiser would be needed, after which the city would purchase property for development, find buyers and resell the land for use prescribed in the master plan.

At present, the local study is in the preliminary stages of roughing out the basic outlines. An $8,000 contract with the Gruen firm provides for carrying out two of five planned phases of the study. The city is awaiting word on two-thirds federal aid on the remaining three phases, which carry a price tag of $40,000.

Former Neenah Teacher Wins Speech Award

NEENAH — Mrs. H. B. McCarty, Madison, a teacher at Neenah High School from 1927 until 1936, has been named the first winner of the Andrew T. Weaver award for outstanding service to speech education in Wisconsin.

Before leaving Neenah as Miss Ruth Dieckhoff in early 1936 to teach speech and drama at Southwest High School, Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. McCarty was dramatics instructor at the high school and director of the Winnebago Players.

Mrs. McCarty's award was presented by the Wisconsin Speech Assn. at Marquette University, Milwaukee. It is in honor of the late Prof. Andrew T. Weaver, who was chairman of the University of Wisconsin speech department for many years and who authored a number of books.

For the past 26 years Mrs. McCarty has been a speech teacher at Madison West High School. She has produced and directed dramatic productions, selected and trained forensic contestants, student commencement speakers, shared in the city poetry festival in Madison for four years. She has played leads in two Wisconsin Players productions, "Craig's Wife" and "Biography."

Her husband is H. B. McCarty, director of the State Radio Council, Madison. They frequently visit friends in the Neenah area.

Fire Routs Family In Rural Waupaca

WAUPACA — The James Severson family, route 2, Waupaca, was left homeless, Friday, when fire caused extensive damage to the family home, five miles southwest of Waupaca at Parfreyville.

The fire was discovered shortly before noon by a member of the family who smelled smoke and found sparks coming from an electrical outlet in the kitchen. It is believed the fire was caused from faulty wiring.

Waupaca firemen managed to extinguish the blaze, but not before the entire second floor of the house was burned or scorched by flames. The first floor was damaged extensively by smoke and water. Firemen fought the blaze in near zero temperatures.

Outside Wall According to firemen a blaze apparently started in an outside wall near the bottom, and spread up the wall to the second floor and attic.

While firemen battled the fire, Severson and volunteers carried most of the first floor furnishings outside. Second floor bedroom furnishings, and most of the family's clothing, were either destroyed or badly damaged.

The family of five plans to stay with neighbors and relatives. No estimate of the loss has been made.

False Alarm Calls Out Four Fire Units; Use Chemicals at Real Blaze

A false alarm brought four units of the Appleton Fire Department to the Conway Hotel, 128 N. Oneida St., at 1:16 a.m. today.

Firemen, who were notified by the desk clerk that the building alarm had been sounded, indicated that the alarm may have been triggered "as a prank."

At 3:16 p.m. Friday, firemen were summoned to Kurz and Root Co., 232 N. Island St., when an acetylene torch caught fire. Firemen used a small amount of chemicals to extinguish the flame.

Chilton Girl Among Top English Students

The National Council of Teachers of English has named her a 1966 winner in its annual achievement competition.

Miss Larson was nominated for the competition by a committee of English teachers here to represent Chilton High School in the state competition.

Her English instructors here have been Robert Schuh, Darlene Freimund and Mrs. Dennis Rybicki.

The Frosting Roof and candy trim of the house Santa is visiting only serve to sweeten the imaginations of these three youngsters as they envision similar scenes at their own homes on Christmas Eve. The house and scene were made by Miss Molly Orr, assistant children's librarian, as part of the decorations at the Menasha Library. Banta School pupils keeping a close eye on Santa in the chimney are Deanna Erdmann (left), Brian Holt and Cindy Berton. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Expect February Start

Five District Headquarter Cities Named;
Rhinelander to Have Sub-District Office

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Directors and staffs of the new regional waters boards that will operate in five districts of the state should be at work not later than Feb. 1, and probably before that time, Director Freeman Holmer of the reconstituted state department of resource development says.

Regional officers will work under the direction of regional advisory boards, the members of which were named earlier this week by Gov. Warren P.

Knowles. The regional district headquarters offices will be in Green Bay, Milwaukee, Eau Claire, Madison and Wisconsin Rapids. There will be a sub-district office at Rhinelander because of the distinctive nature of water quality protection problems in that lake district.

Affect Recruiting

Holmer, explaining his budget request for the next two years, said the "tight" labor market may affect recruiting for the new positions, but he said he has been encouraged by signs of interest among prospective university graduates in water conservation work.

The regional water quality offices, functioning under the new state water pollution control laws, will have starting staffs of about five persons each, including engineers, biologists and sanitarians.

Meetings Planned

Holmer said the regional boards will be asked to meet and to organize relatively soon, and that there will likely be a conference meeting of their members in Madison to acquaint them with their duties and responsibilities, and the scope of regulatory work contemplated in the rewritten water protection law.

The law provides that the regional boards must start functioning before next February. Their purpose is to provide a means for public participation in the state waters management program and to provide a forum for a continuous study and evaluation of water problems. There will also be a state advisory board, chosen from among the regional board citizen members, to assist the state waters administration headed by Holmer.

Steede came to the Shiocton woman's home to pick up her 16-year-old son about 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

About 3:15 a.m. Friday, he returned to the home and told the woman her son was in jail in Appleton. (He, in fact, was not.) When the woman asked for a ride to a relative's house so she could go to Appleton, Steede reportedly grabbed her by the throat and hair.

Trio Injured in U.S. 41 Crash

Three Fox Cities men were injured, none believed seriously, in a three-car accident on U.S. 41, near the Northland Avenue overpass, about 5:55 a.m. today.

Taken to Theda Clark Hospital, Neenah, by a second Lindy's Ambulance was Palmer J. Kjendalen, 56, 506 N. Division St., Appleton, driver of another car, who received facial lacerations.

Outagamie County police said the third car was driven by Thomas R. Kellogg, 19, 505 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah.

The Kellogg car came by a short time later and ran over a gasoline tank lying in the road, resulting in damage to the transmission.

County police estimated total damage in excess of $3,500.

Promoting President Joins Fun

Jaycees Begin State Convention In Appleton With 'Beer Bust'

BY PAT DUFFEY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

APPLETON — Even Bill Suttle, national Jaycee president, was promoting at the Wisconsin Jaycees "Beer Bust" social Friday night when the annual mid-winter convention opened here this weekend.

Suttle's lapels were filled with buttons promoting various activities of the Jaycee chapters in the state.

Aside from his evident Carolinian voice, Suttle blended in with the rest of the Jaycees and Jaycettes at the annual mixer at the Conway Hotel.

Suttle arrived for his initial visit to Wisconsin Wednesday and since has been in nine cities in the state including Waupaca.

The national president will be the keynote speaker for the Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer award dinner tonight at St. Joseph School.

Attend Game

He will remain in Wisconsin long enough to catch the first half of the Green Bay Packers-San Francisco 49er game Sunday in Milwaukee. From there he flies back to Tulsa, Okla., the Jaycees national home, before embarking on another barnstorming tour which will take him into Oregon.

Suttle earlier had been named an honorary Wisconsin Jaycee, as evidenced by the bell button on his lapel.

Suttle's lapels were a small sample of the promotion activities of the state's Jaycee chapters. Members garbed in colorful vests advertising their individual communities, were busy pitching their particular cause.

Advertising signs hung from every available nook and cranny. The glass doors leading into the hotel lobby were peppered with them.

Good Times For All

"Bring Your Wife. Good Time for All," said the Madison Jaycees in promoting for the state convention next May.

"Vote Waupaca for the Teenage Rodeo" proclaimed another. "Lancaster for Road-E-O," said a third.

"Support Milwaukee for its bid for the '68 spring state convention," said the beer capital delegation's sign. The slogan was emblazoned on a map of the community pointing out cultural attractions and Mitchell Field.

"Fun galore in Baltimore. U.S. Nation Jaycees Convention June 25-30, 1967," proclaimed another. A large cheese cloth sign with red letters beckoned the Jaycees a fair welcome to the Fox Cities.

"More for Region 1," another cried, not indicating more of what.

Business Meetings

The Jaycees and Jaycettes settle down to the business at hand today with a prayer breakfast this morning and an assortment of forums and business meetings.

Past national president Richard Headlee is the headliner for this noon's dinner. Headlee headed the GOP campaign in Detroit for Gov. George Romney.

The Jaycettes will be meeting at the Appleton Theatre this morning and will climax their activities with the CAROL award dinner at which five young Wisconsin women will be recognized for their outstanding achievements.

The Jaycees and Jaycettes will merge for an afternoon forum on mental health.

Woman Gets Whiplash In Northside Accident

Jean B. Squier, 533 Marcella Ave., received a "whiplash" injury when the car driven by her husband, Daniel, 40, was involved in an accident about 10:30 p.m. Friday at E. Wisconsin Avenue and N. Drew Street.

Appleton police, said the Squier car, stopped for a red light, was struck from behind by a car driven by Faith H. Borg, 531 Bateman St.

The Appleton woman told police she was picking up a cigarette that had fallen on the floor when her car struck the stopped car.

Difficult Vehicle

West's Spirit Sparkles Blithely

BY JACK VLOSSAK

They pulled it off!

Does it sound as if it couldn't be done? Well, Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" is not for the unknowledgeable or inexperienced, and yet Appleton High-West's drama department proved the sophisticated seance fair game and a delightful evening's entertainment.

Director Lee Schoeni's casting proved a well-balanced group that worked together to bring the buoyancy and pace needed to deliver a finished production.

Patti Jurgensen, as Ruth, the second wife of a man saddled with one wife too many, paced herself with unusual skill in the series of climaxes and anti-climaxes Coward employs. Her enthusiasm and precision were a joy.

Medium Rare!

Madam Arcati, played with style by Nan Retson, was a medium rare! What a spiritualist should be, she was — comic and theatrical. As the sympathetic ear to Ruth's problems, Mary Berryman in the character role of Mrs. Bradman, handled herself most professionally. Elegant Elvira, played by Marcia Mendels, shone through her ghostly white make-up as she alternately charmed and sulked and wound the plot around her little finger.

Bill Jones as Charles, haunted by the shade of his first wife, showed a good sense of stage movement, but his line delivery was, even for Noel Coward, too rapid. None the less as the plot wore on, he wore well.

Edith the militant maid and Dr. Bardford, played respectively by Pat Winter and Steve Kunstman, rounded out the ensemble. Miss Winter covered a delayed sound cue with aplomb during the second act, no mean achievement for a novice.

Small Audience

The open curtain staging allowed the unfortunately small audience a happy preview of the set designed by technical director Gary Hughes. While this reviewer has seen "Blithe Spirit" staged locally arena-style, the proscenium presentation seems to add considerably more to the illusion.

The program notes many of the evening's performers as Attic Theatre workers; it's good to know summer and winter educational and recreational opportunities can complement each other. As a matter of fact you can see for yourself . . . just head west— AHS — West

One Culprit Found

'Pioneer' Hunter Waits Return of Venison Thief

Charles Pottenger, Appleton, downed a six-point buck with musket and ball from his gun collection Nov. 19 but he may have to wait until authorities return a man from Mexico before he has his first taste of venison.

Pottenger put two musket balls into the buck and was dragging the animal out of the woods in the Town of Bovina when he was summoned to assist with a deer killed by a hunting companion.

When Pottenger returned to where he had left his deer, it was gone. The young Appleton man told wardens he found two persons dragging the animal a short distance up the path.

Tag Removed

They had removed Pottenger's metal leg tag and clipped on their own tag, then, after threatening Pottenger, continued on their way with his buck.

The Appleton man noted the license numbers on the hunter's back tags and also the license number of the car they were using. He notified Warden Dale Morey who found the deer hanging in a garage at the home of Michael A. Whitman, 20, 430 E. Lincoln St.

Whitman was found guilty Friday afternoon of game larceny and removing a game tag seal. The youth, through his attorney, had pleaded no contest to the game charges.

Now on Probation

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller placed Whitman on two years probation to the State Department of Public Welfare. The court was told that Whitman already is on probation until next June on a worthless check charge.

The judge also ordered a bench warrant issued for Duane Ellis, 22, Menasha, alleged to be Whitman's accomplice in the offenses. Ellis was to have appeared with Whitman, but the court was told that the Menasha man may have left for Mexico earlier Friday.

Morey was ordered to hold Pottenger's deer — on ice — as evidence in the Ellis case.

Fine, License Loss Meted in Fatal Car Crash

Edward Brouillard Pays $100, Permit Revoked for Year

Edward T. Brouillard, 21, 11 Willow Court, driver of a car involved in a fatal accident Nov. 20, was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was revoked for a year Friday afternoon after he pleaded guilty of a traffic charge brought by Appleton police.

The man, who appeared in court with his forehead bandaged, was charged, following the 8:30 p.m. accident which resulted in the death early the next day of Stanley J. Alberts, 21, 1003 N. Morrison St., while driving at imprudent speed.

Brouillard's 1967 auto left a curve on Wisconsin Avenue near Ballard Road, went over a curb onto a terrace and snapped off a large utility pole.

Brouillard was not seriously injured in the accident. He appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Woman Gets Whiplash In Northside Accident

Jean B. Squier, 533 Marcella Ave., received a "whiplash" injury when the car driven by her husband, Daniel, 40, was involved in an accident about 10:30 p.m. Friday at E. Wisconsin Avenue and N. Drew Street.

Appleton police, said the Squier car, stopped for a red light, was struck from behind by a car driven by Faith H. Borg, 531 Bateman St.

The Appleton woman told police she was picking up a cigarette that had fallen on the floor when her car struck the stopped car.

West's Spirit Sparkles Blithely

BY JACK VLOSSAK

They pulled it off!

Does it sound as if it couldn't be done? Well, Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" is not for the unknowledgeable or inexperienced, and yet Appleton High-West's drama department proved the sophisticated seance fair game and a delightful evening's entertainment.

Director Lee Schoeni's casting proved a well-balanced group that worked together to bring the buoyancy and pace needed to deliver a finished production.

Patti Jurgensen, as Ruth, the second wife of a man saddled with one wife too many, paced herself with unusual skill in the series of climaxes and anti-climaxes Coward employs. Her enthusiasm and precision were a joy.

Medium Rare!

Madam Arcati, played with style by Nan Retson, was a medium rare! What a spiritualist should be, she was — comic and theatrical. As the sympathetic ear to Ruth's problems, Mary Berryman in the character role of Mrs. Bradman, handled herself most professionally. Elegant Elvira, played by Marcia Mendels, shone through her ghostly white make-up as she alternately charmed and sulked and wound the plot around her little finger.

Bill Jones as Charles, haunted by the shade of his first wife, showed a good sense of stage movement, but his line delivery was, even for Noel Coward, too rapid. None the less as the plot wore on, he wore well.

Edith the militant maid and Dr. Bardford, played respectively by Pat Winter and Steve Kunstman, rounded out the ensemble. Miss Winter covered a delayed sound cue with aplomb during the second act, no mean achievement for a novice.

Small Audience

The open curtain staging allowed the unfortunately small audience a happy preview of the set designed by technical director Gary Hughes. While this reviewer has seen "Blithe Spirit" staged locally arena-style, the proscenium presentation seems to add considerably more to the illusion.

MHS Held To 11 in First Half

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY

MENASHA — Breaking away with a barrage of fourth period points, favored Neenah High School opened Mid-Eastern Conference activity with a 61-38 verdict over Menasha here Friday night.

Neenah's defense limited the hosts to 11 points in the first half but the offense had some difficulty guiding the ball through the nets and had to settle for 25, which at that was a substantial 14-point lead.

The Bluejays, whose theory is to control the ball until within range where you can take a shot that you're 80 per cent sure of making, stayed reasonably close and outscored the victors, 16-13, in the third stanza to trail, 38-27, going into the final eight minutes.

Menasha's John Robinson trimmed the margin to 10 with a free throw but missed the bonus. The Jays had a chance to cut deeper into the lead when Ron Haack was fouled on the rebound but he missed the first attempt on another bonus situation.

Then the Bluejay defense sprung a leak and in the next six minutes Neenah racked up a 25-4 edge.

Consistently beating the defenders down court, the Rockets scored four straight baskets, two by Gary Losse and singles by Al Ross and Dan Jankowski, boosting the score to 46-28.

Hit Eight Straight

After Menashan Tom Kenney hit on a rebound, Neenah hooped another string of eight. Ross, Losse, Larry Handler and Jankowski all getting two. Steve Jansen scored for Menasha but the next five points went to the guests for a 27-point spread at 59-32. Menasha closed by making six of the last eight (allies).

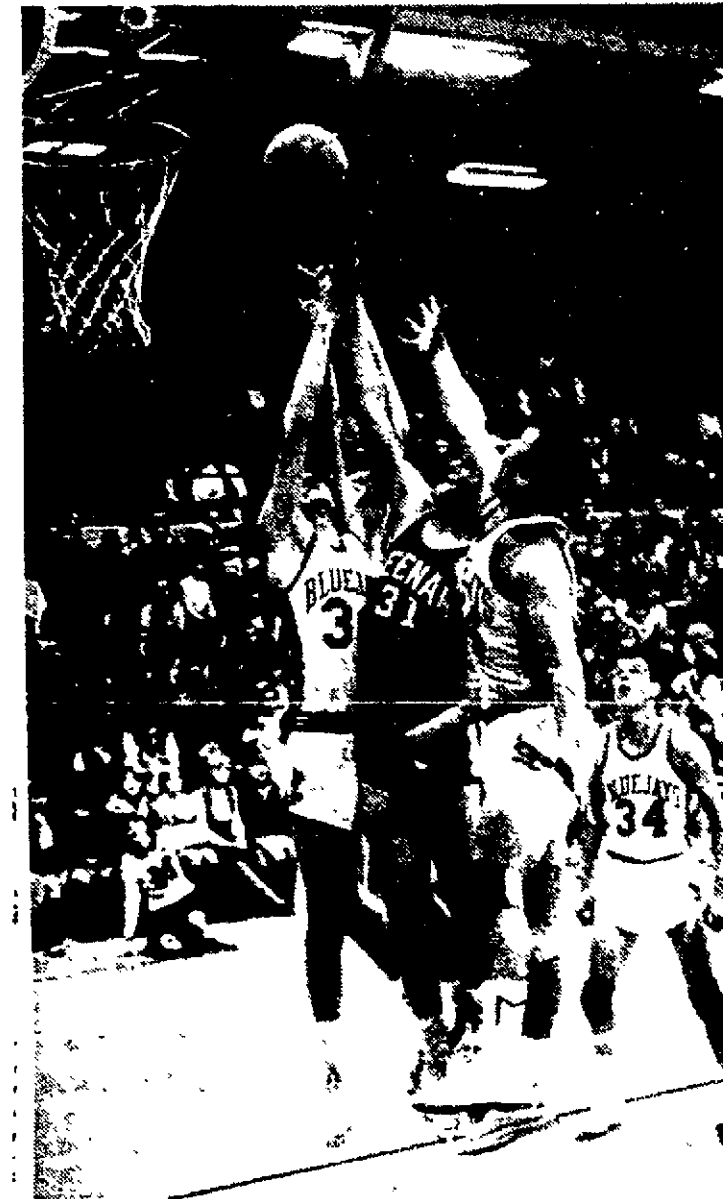

Menasha's two leads in the game were at 4-2 and 6-5 and the score was only tied twice, both in the first period. The Red and White held a 9-8 edge after the initial quarter and its 16-point second half included the last eight.

In defeating their cross-town rivals for the third straight time, the Rockets put four players in the double figures, led by Losse's 19 points. He was blanked in the first frame but made eight in the second and seven in the fourth.

Jankowski, who played the fourth period with four fouls, added 14, Al Ross 12 and Larry Handler 10. The trio helped their team to a sizeable rebounding edge, especially in the second half.

Kaukauna Hits 53 Per Cent In Notching Fourth Straight

BY ED VAN BERKEL

KAUKAUNA — The Galloping Ghosts rolled to an easy 91-46 win over New London to open conference play here Friday night. The win, was the fourth straight for the Ghosts this season as they served notice they are to be reckoned with for the remainder of the year.

The Bulldogs were as cold as the night air while the winners were the opposite, blistering the cords at over 53 per cent as they connected on 30 of 56 shots from the floor. New London meanwhile made good on only 20 of 79 attempts for slightly less than 25 per cent.

New London missed its first 13 shots from the floor as Kaukauna rolled to an 11-0 lead before Bruce Feurig scored on a free throw for the losers with 4:15 showing in the first period. Feurig hit two baskets late in the period to account for the entire New London total at the end of the first quarter.

The Ghosts held a 19-5 first period lead hitting on six of 11 shots from the floor, four of the baskets by Kavanaugh. Besides scoring five points for New London, Feurig found himself in foul trouble with three whistles against him in the quarter. Kaukauna hit seven of 10 free throws in the period and New London made one of two.

Quinn Vanden Heuvel opened the second period scoring for Kaukauna, but Russ Yaeger and Gary Slorasek countered with buckets for the losers. A swisher by Dennis Spice and two by John Van De Hey hiked the winners advantage to 27-9. The Bulldogs were no match for the Ghosts as the latter continued to widen the margin to lead 49-18 at halftime.

Kaukauna continued its hot shooting in the second frame, connecting on 12 of 19 shots while the Bulldogs managed only six of 22. The winners hit on six of eight free throw tries and the losers scored on one of five attempts.

Took Command

Yaeger hit the first basket to open the second half after about two minutes of play, but Van De Hey and Kavanaugh countered for Kaukauna as the leaders again took command. New London came up with its best show of the game in the third period scoring on six of 17 tries while Kaukauna hit on four of 12 attempts, but the winners made nine of 13 free throws to outscore New London 17-13 in the quarter.

Reserves played most of the final period for Kaukauna, but New London was also forced to go to its bench, losing three starters via fouls. Van De Hey led all scorers with 21 points while Kavanaugh contributed 19. Three other Ghosts also hit in double figures to show a balanced attack. Yaeger was top point getter for the losers with 14 tallies.

Papermakers Drop Fourth in Row

Truckers Tip Kimberly, 69-57

CLINTONVILLE — After building a third-quarter lead that extended to as much as 19 points, the Clintonville Truckers had to fight off a late Kimberly drive to beat the Papermakers, 69-57, in the Mid-Eastern Conference opener Friday night.

The Truckers thus stretched their season mark to 3-1 overall, while the Papermakers have yet to win in four starts. Coach Carl Bruggink's quint plays host to Schofield tonight in a non-conference game.

Clintonville held relatively comfortable, 17-10 and 33-22 advantages at the ends of the first two periods before spurting to a 51-32 margin with :55 left in the third frame.

Suddenly, Kimberly launched its comeback bid. The Papermakers hit a quick seven points in the remaining seconds to pull within 12, at 51-39 at the third quarter buzzer. Guard Bill Lamers kept the charge going into the final eight minutes, hitting four long shots as the Papermakers edged to within seven points, 59-52, with 4:02 still left on the clock.

Slowing down the pace considerably, Clintonville managed two key baskets by Chuck Bate and Dale Steinke's free toss to

Hawks Pull Away in Last Period

OSHKOSH — The Hawks of Xavier waited until the fourth quarter to pull out all the stops and sink arch-rival Oshkosh Lourdes, 59-39, in the Fox Valley Catholic Conference opener for both clubs Friday night at Oshkosh.

The win, sixth in a row for Xavier this season, came over the team that knocked the Hawks out of a trip to the state championship tourney last season.

Coach "Torchy" Clark's crew didn't seem to be functioning smoothly until the fourth frame when the Hawks started thinking seriously of moving the ball and hitting. Up until that time it appeared to be anyone's ball game, with neither quintet hitting the bucket at a rate to brag about.

Hold 13-7 Lead

Xavier pulled to a 13-7 first period lead while the Knights were hesitating to shoot from the outside. Lourdes didn't find the net until 2:43 showed on the clock. The Knights had to play catch-up ball in the second quarter and they managed to tie the score at 23-23 on a 10-foot jump shot by Jim Purtell with 45 seconds remaining. Randy Walter was the big scoring gun in the Lourdes' drive.

After a free throw by Walter put the Knights ahead, 24-23, early in the third, Xavier's Pat Fitzgerald made it 25-24 in favor of the Hawks and Purtell put the knights back in front, 26-25 with 3:50 remaining. Bill Ratzburg of Lourdes added a charity toss but Fitzgerald boomed one in to tie it at 27-27.

The Hawks' Terry Graff hit three buckets out of the next four and Xavier held a 33-28 lead going into the final period.

Fitzgerald, the game's leading scorer with 18 points, contributed six markers in the final drive, as did teammate Gene Jack. Jack scored four points early in the fourth, one bucket coming on a drive-in after stealing the ball.

Xavier rolled up 28 points before the fourth frame was done, despite the fact that reserves were sent in the last two minutes. All Lourdes could muster was 11 points.

Title-Hungry Packers Can Clinch Tie For 'Western' Crown With Triumph

By KEN HARTNETT Associated Press Sports Writer MILWAUKEE (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers bring their bubbling hot offense to chilly County Stadium Sunday, hoping to scald the title-hungry Green Bay Packers for the second time this National Football League season.

The temperature, hovering a bit above zero most of the week, is expected to climb to a relatively autumnal 28 during the afternoon.

The 49ers, nourishing a fragile hope for the Western Conference title, must win to avoid elimination from the race.

The Packers, with a two-game lead over second-place Baltimore and only three games to play, would assure themselves of a tie for conference laurels with a victory.

Manitowoc Holds off AHS, 57-54; Fox Valley Lutheran Loses, 62 to 54

Ships Get Six Straight Points In Last 1½ Minutes for Win

BY JOHN PAUSTIAN Post-Crescent Sports Editor

MANITOWOC — A poised Manitowoc basketball team scored six straight points in the final, tension-packed 100 seconds of play here Friday night to turn back Appleton High School's stirring bid for a comeback victory, 57-54.

The Terrors, who had trailed by seven points (50-43) with 4:58 left in the game, outscored the Ships, 11 to 1, in the next 3:05 to take a 54-51 advantage. Unbeaten Manitowoc, however, dipped into its reservoir of determination to pull out its second straight Fox River Valley Conference win and fourth successive victory, over-all.

Brad Steckmesser scored on a short flip to reduce the Ships' deficit to 54-53, with 1:40 left. AHS undoubtedly had "control" plans for the ball, but before the Terrors could get anything going, the Ships stole the ball and set up Bill Sepnanski, their inspirational leader of the night.

Sepnanski fired from 22 feet and sank his fourth long shot and seventh basket, in all, for a 55-54 lead with 1:18 to go.

The Terrors brought the ball back down but missed a shot, and Manitowoc froze the ball for better than 30 seconds. AHS tied up the ball with 13 seconds to go, but Manitowoc pounced on it after the "jump." A desperation foul gave Manty's Bob Rosinsky a chance for insurance with five seconds left. He dropped in both attempts.

Makes 10 of 11 The Appletonians, who beat back Green Bay East's stretch-drive challenge last Saturday with precision free throwing, had the tables turned on them last night. Manitowoc sank 10 of 11 free throws in the final quarter to hand AHS its first loss in three starts.

Almost 3,000 fans watched the defense-dominated battle, in which the score was tied eight times and the lead changed hands on nine occasions.

Both teams played deliberate styles of offense and both used essentially zone defenses — with a few man-to-man variations. Shooting performances by the evenly-matched teams were nearly identical. AHS connected on 20 of 61 field attempts — for 32.8 per cent — while the Ships made 19 of 61, for 31.1 per cent.

From the foul line, it was the reverse, with Manty hitting on 19 of 25, for 76 per cent; while Appleton sank 14 of 19, for .736.

Sepnanski, a junior who was given his first start of the season by Coach Ed Fleener, justified the confidence shown in him by scoring the game's

Shawano Quint Rips Two Rivers

SHAWANO — Opening the Mid-Eastern Conference season, the Shawano Indians downed Two Rivers, 76-54, Friday.

Shawano, which never trailed in the game, held a 41-22 half-time lead.

Pacing the Indian attack was Ron Jesse, with 18 markers. Bill Gipp added 17.

John Miller led the Raiders, hitting 13.

With the victory, the Indians brought their season's mark to 3-0, and the Two Rivers squad is 1-3.

Vikings Gain Advantage on Free Throw Line

BY RON WITT Post-Crescent Staff Writer

When opportunity knocks, you'd better answer it.

Fox Valley Lutheran might have learned that lesson well Friday night — and it's a sure bet that Wisconsin Lutheran did, since it was the invading Vikings who took advantage of FVL fouls, especially in the final 61 seconds, to walk away with a hard-earned 62-54 victory.

The two teams wound up with identical totals of 23 baskets, but the Vikings cashed in on 16 of 27 attempts from the free throw line, including nine in the last quarter, to notch their first victory in the Midwest Prep Conference for 1966. The loss gave the Foxes an 0-2 mark, for the season with Menasha St. Mary's looming on Sunday.

Full-Court Press

With Wisconsin Lutheran up by two at 56-54 and the clock about to tick into the last minute, the Foxes had to apply the full-court press to get the ball. But the quick-passing invaders apparently knew just what to do to protect their slim margin.

The Vikings fed their two top gunners for the night in 6-4 center Jim Brenn and 6-3 forward Dan Horn, and both responded admirably to the
